

Bixby Dedication Talk Calls for Highway Funds

Parents Urge Dewey Act on Notch Road

The Notch Road, known as route 214, running from the Ontario Trail at Phoenixia to connect with 23a between Tannersville and Hunter, which has been under some sort of construction for several years, has again come into the limelight through a letter sent to Governor Dewey by the Stony Clove Parents Committee which is seeking to have the road completed.

Since February 1952, the committee claims nothing has come but promises and the committee is now appealing to Governor Dewey to take immediate steps to expedite the final construction of the Notch Road.

The committee in a letter dated January 20, points to the importance of completion at this time, not only to eliminate a dangerous condition but to expedite traffic from that area in reaching the multi-million dollar plant of IBM which is shortly to be built north of Kingston.

Seven-year Appeal

John Papp, chairman of the committee, said the people of the area had been fighting for a new highway for seven years and to date only about two-thirds of the route has been completed. He points out the need for immediate action.

The federal appropriation expires on June 30, 1955. People throughout the area, Chambers of Commerce and civic organizations should join hands with the Parents Committee and fight for completion of the Notch Road this year, Papp stated.

People in the area are much aroused over the "State Department of Public Works passing the buck; first it was the federal aid, second the shortage of engineers, third the shortage of money, fourth it had to be approved by the Greene county Board of Supervisors and fifth, the state must match the federal fund," Papp charges.

Urge People to Write

The committee is appealing to everyone in the area to write to Governor Dewey and seek his assistance in getting the road completed this year to eliminate the dangerous condition which exists and over which the school children must pass.

Reds' Losses Pile Up

Hanoi, Indochina, Jan. 23 (AP)—French and Vietnamese forces, spearheaded by tanks and other mobile units, killed 109 Vietminh and captured 181 others in mop-up actions today in the Red river delta, the high command said. The fighting was heaviest in the Kesat sector 25 miles southeast of Hanoi, where 67 Communist-led rebels were killed and 64 captured. French fighters and bombers hammered Vietminh supply bases and troop centers in northwestern Indochina.

Pro-Red Prisoners Caught By Tough Stand of 2 Sides

Panmunjom, Jan. 23 (AP)—Twenty-one Americans and 326 other pro-Red prisoners in Korea's neutral zone were caught today between a new Communist refusal to accept them and a tougher allied attitude.

Two Communist generals rejected for the second time an Indian proposal that the Reds accept "under protest" the 21 Americans, 1 Briton and 325 South Koreans who renounced their homelands for communism.

Indian guards abandoned the captives last night after the Reds wouldn't take them.

$200,000 State Garage Opened Here Friday; 250 Officials and Employees Attend

The New York State Department of Public Works' new $200,000 garage and office building on Quarry street was formally dedicated Friday afternoon during ceremonies attended by about 250 department employees, public officials and guests.

James S. Bixby, district engineer for District No. 8, which includes Ulster county, principal speaker, noted that the Kingston building was the first such facility to be obtained in the nine counties within his jurisdiction.

Mayor Frederick H. Stang was toastmaster. Others who spoke briefly included John E. Farquharson, district maintenance engineer; Harry G. Krom, county assistant engineer for Ulster county; and Lester H. Krick, assistant superintendent of maintenance.

In his talk, Bixby touched on the problem facing the state in maintenance of its highways and the need for more highways.

Says Taxes Necessary

"You've got to have more taxes in order to have more highways," he said.

In sounding out opinions, he found no one opposed to an added two-cent a gallon gasoline tax "provided they can be assured that the revenue will not be diverted to other uses," he said. He asked that those who share his opinion write their representatives in the legislature.

Bixby paid tribute to the city of Kingston for its cooperation during the opening of the Thruway in this area. He noted that the city had been efficient in removing snow from Washington street, and that parking has been prohibited on one side of that street. Washington avenue is one city street which has had an added traffic load since the opening of the section of Thruway from the Ontario Trail to Saugerties.

Praises Krom, Staff

The district engineer termed the new office building and garage "a credit to Harry G. Krom and his men. Krom, who has been associated with the Department of Public Works for more than 41 years, is in charge of state highway work in Ulster county.

Efforts to secure the building date back to 1945, when Bixby instructed the county assistant engineer D.V.Z. Bogert, to locate a parcel of land large enough to erect an office-garage-storehouse and have ample space for yard storage.

Bogert, after inspecting several sites, recommended the Quaker street location and obtained an option to purchase. After a public hearing conducted by the city zoning board, the deed was obtained and in 1946 the contract for the fence was let.

Pine Bush Antenna Factory Is Closed

The Channel Master Corporation, manufacturers of TV antennas and aluminum products, which recently opened a new modern factory in Ellenville, is closing its temporary plant in Pine Bush and consolidating that production in the Ellenville plant.

The Pine Bush plant, the former Marietta Silk Mill, was opened in April when the company was in urgent need of quick space. Gradual shut-down of the plant began before the Christmas holidays.

About 100 had been employed at Pine Bush. All Pine Bush employees have been retained and given employment in Ellenville. The Pine Bush plant will be offered for sale.

600,000 Shares Are Out on Shandaken Oil, Gas Project

Geographical Reports Are Basis for Believing Panther Mountain Has Supply

A public offering of 600,000 shares of five-cent par value common stock to finance exploration and testing of approximately 9,000 acres of oil and gas leases in the town of Shandaken has been announced by the North Star Oil and Uranium Corporation.

The stock, offered as a speculation, is to finance the work of North Star's wholly owned subsidiary, Dome Gas and Oil Corporation, of New York, which last November announced plans to sink a well into the Panther Mountain Dome.

Stress Natural Gas

The company cited geological reports of the area under lease which indicate there are "definite geologic structures which are adequate to trap any existing oil or gas in the vicinity." It pointed out that while the United States Geological Survey in reports to the Congressional Committee has consistently classified the area as well below average in its relative likelihood of yielding oil in commercial amounts, such classification does not apply to natural gas.

Offering price of the North Star Oil and Uranium Corporation stock is 50 cents a share. The total offering at a price to the public will amount to $300,000, of which the corporation's proceeds are $225,000. The remaining $75,000 is allocated to underwriting discounts and commissions.

Lincoln Securities Corporation of 42 Broadway, New York, is the underwriter.

Dome Gas and Oil Corporation was incorporated in Delaware in September, 1953, for the purpose of acquiring oil leaseholds and to engage generally in the acquisition, exploration and development of natural gas and oil properties.

Stewart A. Currie of Hamilton is president; R. M. Atwater, Jr., vice president; LeRoy Hodge, secretary; and Sidney Lieberman, treasurer. The company's principal office is at 295 Madison avenue, New York.

Offered to Public

Dome Gas and Oil Corporation issued to Sidney Lieberman and Stewart A. Currie 1,500,000 shares of its five cents par value common stock in consideration of their assigning leases on approximately 9,000 acres in Ulster county. Lieberman and Currie then transferred these 1,500,000 shares to North Star Oil and Uranium Corporation in return for 360,000 shares of its five cents par value stock. North Star, as parent company, is now offering 600,000 (Continued on Page 5, Col. 8)

Market Is Up 3d Week For Gains

Stocks Press Ahead With Scarcely a Pause as Taxes Are Cut; Many Expect Reaction

New York, Jan. 22 (AP)—The stock market with its third straight weekly advance this week continued rolling on into new high ground for the current recovery move.

No records were broken and there was no undue excitement about the performance, but the market nevertheless pressed ahead with scarcely a pause.

The market took full advantage of all good news at home and abroad, and it also gave the once-overlightly treatment to news it considered adverse.

Both last week and this week the market got a major lift out of highly favorable tax developments in Washington. Current proposals are preliminary, of course, but they are pretty potent straws in the wind.

Billion for Expansion

From business itself came a top stock market stimulant. General Motors said it planned to spend a billion dollars in the next two years on expansion. The program, it was added later, might run to a billion and a half dollars and cover a three-year period.

That helped a lot of people to forget layoffs in the motor industry at this time and to look further ahead at a better business picture.

On Friday, Studebaker declared a dividend of 40 cents as compared with 75 cents previously paid. Studebaker's stock was fractionally lower, but the stock market didn't pause in its climb.

When the President's budget came out, it was found he recommended that 22 per cent of curtailed defense funds be spent for air defense. That was a shot in the arm to the aircraft stocks. Douglas Aircraft, for example, jumped ahead 8½ points this week.

Nothing Happened

Then there was another factor. It was negative, but it helped. The prisoner exchange deal in Korea went through a critical week without a hitch. It contained enough explosive elements to knock the stock market down hard. But nothing happened.

At the end of the week there still were some crossed fingers in Wall Street.

The substantial rise the market has gone through in the past three weeks has caused many to watch carefully for a reaction that normally punctuates any rally. In the last two weeks there has been little hesitancy in the advance.

Molotov Prods Big Three To Admit China to Parley

Dulles in Berlin

Western Delegates Talk Plans to Pursue for First Soviet Session Since 1949

Berlin, Jan. 23 (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov arrived here today for a Big Four meeting and immediately prodded the western powers to admit Red China to the conference table if they want to speed up the end of the cold war.

Under security protection of thousands of troops and secret police, the Kremlin's No. 1 diplomat came to East Berlin by plane from Moscow and declared:

"The sooner the Chinese People's Republic takes part in negotiations over current international questions of the great states, the better it will be—the better for the strengthening of peace between peoples."

Only a handful of Communist officials of East Germany and other Soviet bloc countries heard Molotov's statement, read at Schoenefeld Air Field but it was broadcast 2½ hours later. He arrived as his opposite numbers from the Western Big Three conferred on strategy for the four-power conference opening Monday. The West has been cold to the idea of having Red China sit in on the present meetings.

The West wants to put German and Austrian settlements to the fore. But the Russian foreign minister made it clear he would push the issue of China.

"The Berlin conference will measure up to its chief task in so far as it contributes to strengthening peace, reducing the tension on international relations, and really guaranteeing security in Europe," Molotov asserted.

"The Soviet Union has had no aims directed against freedom and national rights of other peoples and also has none now."

"On its part, it has supported the efforts of all countries that are concerned with the welfare and security of their peoples, in so far as these efforts were not contrary to the interests and rights of other states. The USSR government would like to see the same attitude also shown to the Soviet Union."

Arrives With Flourish

Molotov, traveling in a convoy of seven limousines, roared down Unter Den Linden and into the Russian Embassy gates in Communist-controlled East Berlin, shortly after noon. A snow flurry greeted the Russians as they sped past an honor guard of East German Red police, standing at both sides of the wide avenue.

Breakers Can't Keep Up With Cold; Two LSTs Stuck on Friday

Ice in the Hudson river is hampering passage of ships despite the efforts of breakers to keep the channel open. A predicted snow storm coming from the south blew out to sea yesterday before reaching this area. Washington, D. C. experienced snow.

Dickinson Faces Army Charges Now

Former Balky PW Could Get Death Penalty on Red Deal

Washington, Jan. 23 (AP)—Cpl. Edward S. Dickinson, a Virginia farm boy who changed his mind about staying with the Communists in Korea, faces army charges that he dealt illegally with his Red captors to get better treatment. If tried and convicted of one of the charges, he could be sentenced to death.

The army notified Dickinson of the charges last night, then placed him under arrest at its Walter Reed Hospital here. He has been undergoing a physical examination.

Conference Held On 'Rainmaking' With Democratic Colleagues on A-War Risk

County Attorneys Take Up Action on Suits for $387,000 Damages

The Ulster county "rainmaking" damage action against the City of New York, arising out of the cloud seeding operations of Prof. Howell in 1951 in an endeavor to replenish the water in the Catskill reservoir system of the city, came up Thursday for a pre-trial conference before Justice Steuer in New York city.

County Attorney Arthur A. Davis, Jr., and Assistant County Attorney Robert Carnright conferred with Justice Steuer and New York city attorneys.

Actions have been brought by many persons as well as the County of Ulster, against the City of New York for damages arising out of damage caused by flood conditions which it is alleged were aggravated by the rain making operations.

Allege Bridge Damage

Ulster county has actions amounting to $387,000 against the city, $67,000 of which it is alleged were damages below the portal and the balance being above the portal in the Esopus and Delaware valleys. The county alleges bridges and roads were damaged as a result of the operations carried on by the City of New York.

After the pre-trial conference in New York city Thursday indications were that the City of New York would disclaim all liability and damages and indicated scientists from various parts of the country would be called to testify on behalf of the city.

First on Calendar

Will Start Horticultural Displays Early Next Week

Advance men for approximately 55 commercial exhibitors will begin arriving in Kingston Monday night and Tuesday to set up displays of farm machinery and equipment in the state armory in preparation for the Eastern meeting of the New York State Horticultural Society which opens Wednesday morning.

The exhibit of newest offerings in spray rigs, spray and fertilizer materials, packaging equipment and other farm machinery yearly forms a major feature of the three-day meeting, which attracts apple and fruit growers from the eastern section of New York state.

Daniel M. Dalrymple of Lockport, secretary-treasurer of the 99-year-old Horticultural Society, is expected in Kingston on Tuesday to oversee arrangements for the meeting.

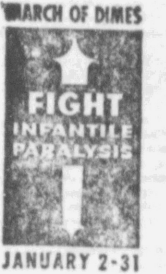

This year's program will depart from its usual featured banquet on Thursday night. Instead, an evening program will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel at 8 p. m. Frederic Snyder, well known lecturer and news analyst, will be the speaker.

Winners of the 4-H and Future Farmers of America fruit insect and disease identification and apple judging contests will be honored at the evening session along with winners of the pie baking contest.

Society members will be "on their own" for dinner. It was explained today by William H. Palmer, county agricultural agent who is assisting with local arrangements. Facilities of the Governor Clinton Hotel will be made available, however, and Society officials have encouraged members to make reservations by groups for dinner.

Palmer explained that the new Thursday evening arrangements will be scheduled this year on a trial basis, due to past difficulties experienced with obtaining advance dinner reservations.

Sen. Byrd Sticks With Ike On His New Military Plan

Conference Held On 'Rainmaking' Action on Suits for $387,000 Damages

The Ulster county "rainmaking" damage action against the City of New York, arising out of the cloud seeding operations of Prof. Howell in 1951 in an endeavor to replenish the water in the Catskill reservoir system of the city, came up Thursday for a pre-trial conference before Justice Steuer in New York city.

County Attorney Arthur A. Davis, Jr., and Assistant County Attorney Robert Carnright conferred with Justice Steuer and New York city attorneys.

Actions have been brought by many persons as well as the County of Ulster, against the City of New York for damages arising out of damage caused by flood conditions which it is alleged were aggravated by the rain making operations.

Allege Bridge Damage

Ulster county has actions amounting to $387,000 against the city, $67,000 of which it is alleged were damages below the portal and the balance being above the portal in the Esopus and Delaware valleys. The county alleges bridges and roads were damaged as a result of the operations carried on by the City of New York.

After the pre-trial conference in New York city Thursday indications were that the City of New York would disclaim all liability and damages and indicated scientists from various parts of the country would be called to testify on behalf of the city.

First on Calendar

Will Start Horticultural Displays Early Next Week

Advance men for approximately 55 commercial exhibitors will begin arriving in Kingston Monday night and Tuesday to set up displays of farm machinery and equipment in the state armory in preparation for the Eastern meeting of the New York State Horticultural Society which opens Wednesday morning.

The exhibit of newest offerings in spray rigs, spray and fertilizer materials, packaging equipment and other farm machinery yearly forms a major feature of the three-day meeting, which attracts apple and fruit growers from the eastern section of New York state.

Daniel M. Dalrymple of Lockport, secretary-treasurer of the 99-year-old Horticultural Society, is expected in Kingston on Tuesday to oversee arrangements for the meeting.

This year's program will depart from its usual featured banquet on Thursday night. Instead, an evening program will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel at 8 p. m. Frederic Snyder, well known lecturer and news analyst, will be the speaker.

Winners of the 4-H and Future Farmers of America fruit insect and disease identification and apple judging contests will be honored at the evening session, along with winners of the pie baking contest.

Society members will be "on their own" for dinner, it was explained today by William H. Palmer, county agricultural agent who is assisting with local arrangements. Facilities of the Governor Clinton Hotel will be made available, however, and Society officials have encouraged members to make reservations by groups for dinner.

Palmer explained that the new Thursday evening arrangements will be scheduled this year on a trial basis, due to past difficulties experienced with obtaining advance dinner reservations.

New York, Jan. 22 (AP)—Police reported today the arrest of 3 men and 9 women on narcotics charges following a series of raids in East Harlem. Of the total, 19, including 8 women, were seized in a shooting gallery described as a "hot spot" by authorities. Twenty other men were apprehended in an East Harlem apartment. Other charges resulted in the arrest of three men and a woman. All 41 were charged with possession of narcotics.

Putting Glean in Tile

The colored glazes for clay tiles for baths and kitchens are compounds of clay, feldspar, flint, mineral oxides and such other substances as white lead, borax or boric acid and whiting.

Waxing Asphalt Tile

To prevent the wax coating on asphalt tile floors from softening, dip cleaning cloth in cool instead of warm water to wipe off soil.

Narcissus for Cutting

Plant poeticus narcissus for cutting. This is the most fragrant of the wild narcissus family.

Removing Whitewash

Old whitewash can be removed effectively by using warm water and a stiff fiber brush.

Spruce Up Window Box

Small specimen of bruce or arborvitae present a delightful picture in the outdoor window box during the winter. Their rich green color is a welcome sight.

Gingham in the HomeDue for Popularity Rise

Gingham is about to enter every little corner of your home. Manufacturers have been busy designing ensembles for the kitchen and dining area in particular. Gingham has gone into stove and table pads, glassware, floor sitters, rubber mats, oilcloth and oilcloth products, vinyl film, table coverings, bowl covers, aprons, china-ware, decals, ruffling, lamp shades, paper napkins, paper edging and shelving, seat cushions and chair backs, kitchen towels, place mats and other items.

Appearance of the Floor

No matter how attractive the furniture, draperies or walls, a room still will take its keynote from the appearance of the floor. Old or new, the floor covering should have good care to keep it in the best possible relationship to everything else in the room. Daily vacuum cleaning, no less, is the way to keep any rug or carpet looking its best and, moreover, in the best condition.

Remove Concrete Stains

Root stains on concrete and stucco surfaces can often be removed by scrubbing with a stiff fiber brush and a solution of one-half pound of trisodium phosphate in a gallon of water. When the stain is gone, rinse well with clean water.

Bathtub Safety

For safety, the bathtub should have straight sides and flat bottom. Securely-fastened hand grips should be installed in the wall above the tub.

Simple Precautions Check Termites

Because termites depend on moisture for existence, the best way to control them when building a new house is to insulate wooden members from the ground.

Do not place wood on masonry without placing a damp-proofing strip between. If metal is used for damp-proofing strip, back it with felt paper or strong building paper.

Provide maximum clearance between building and ground, and allow adequate ventilation for crawl spaces and other closed areas. Avoid having any wood in direct contact with ground.

Soundproofing Houses

Cambridge, Mass. — Scientists here are studying experimental soundproof rooms. The ultimate aim is to determine how sound travels through walls, ceiling and floors, and from this knowledge to design new soundproof construction materials.

Studies indicate improvements in present acoustical materials, particularly for adoption in single houses and apartments.

Narrow Oak Flooring

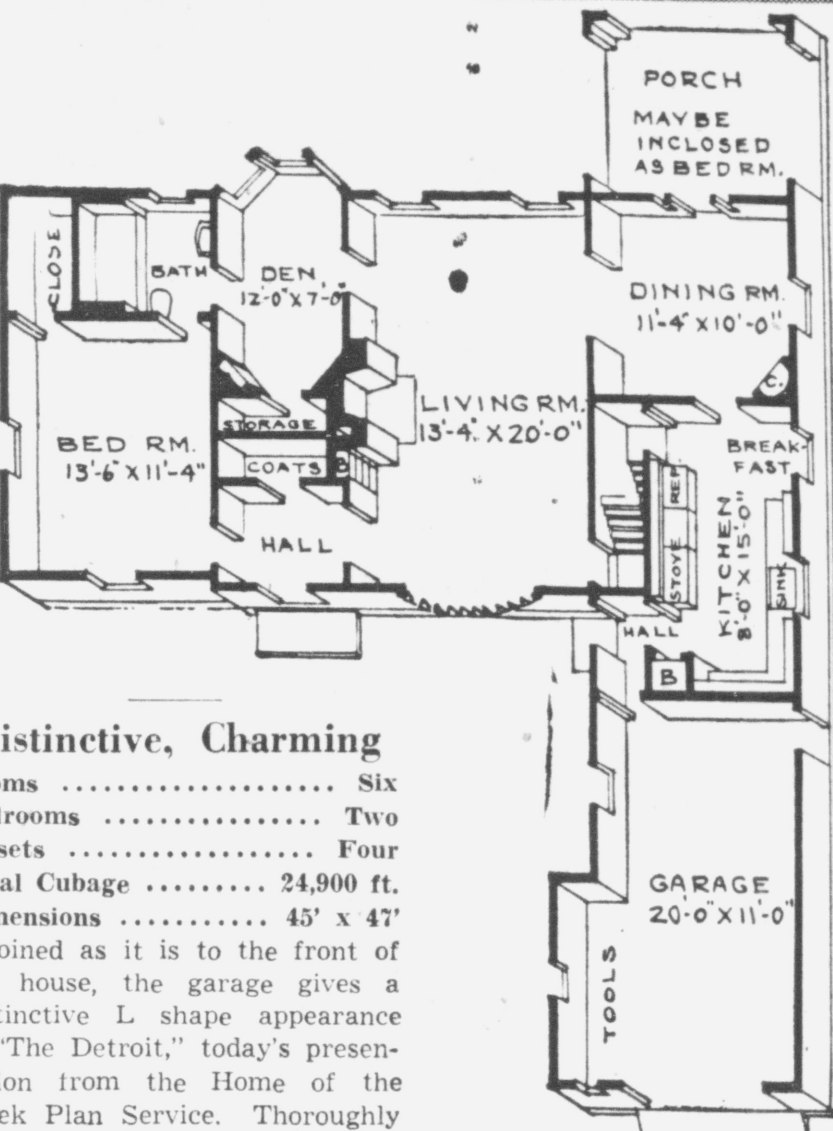

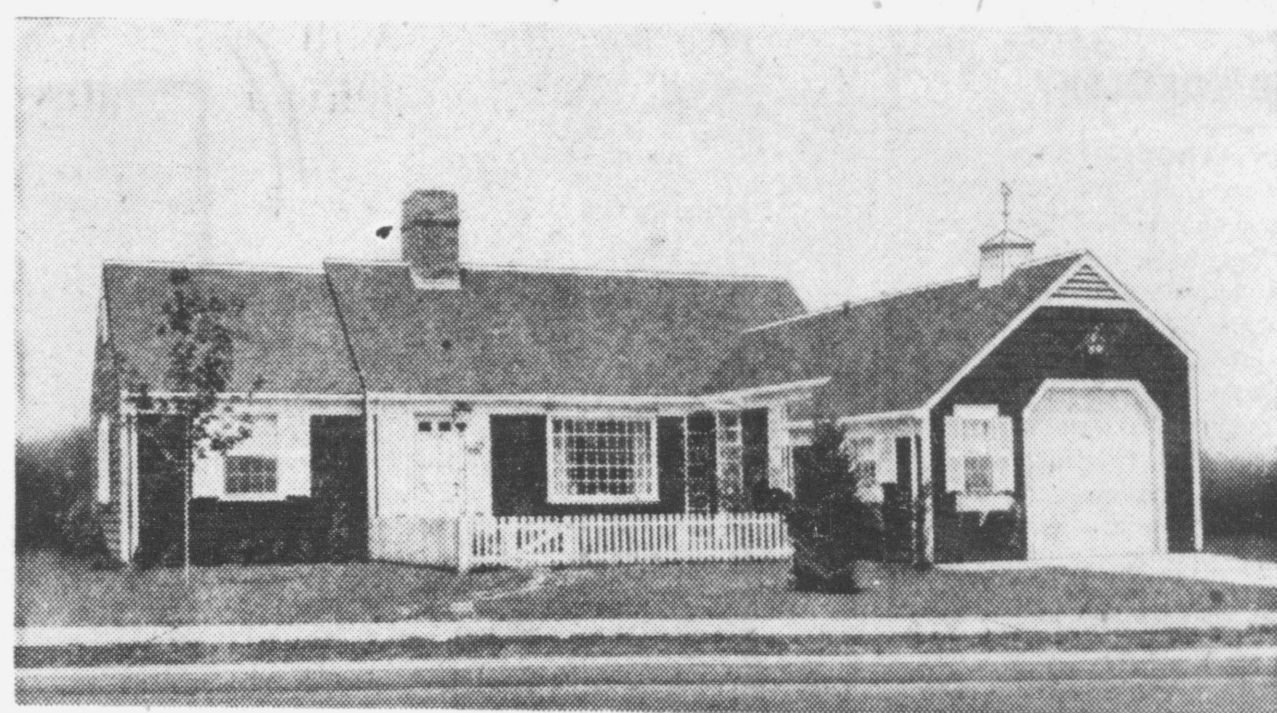

While the most common width of flooring is the 2 1/4-inch type, 1 1/2-inch boards make a very attractive floor. They require more time to install, because more pieces are needed to cover a given area, but they are just as durable and easy to maintain as the wider flooring and are less likely to develop cracks.

Keep the Soil Loose

Cultivate after every rain when the soil has dried out sufficiently to crumble. This kills weeds that have sprouted and breaks the soil crust. One inch is deep enough to stir the soil.

Lumber Must Be Dry

Lumber to be used for building furniture should be stored indoors for a month or six weeks before the project is started. However, if the dealer guarantees that the lumber is kiln dried this won't be necessary.

The DETROITDistinctive, Charming

Rooms Six Bedrooms Two Closets Four
Total Cubage 24,900 ft.

Dimensions 45' x 47'

Joined as it is to the front of the house, the garage gives a distinctive L shape appearance to "The Detroit," today's presentation from the Home of the Week Plan Service. Thoroughly modern open planning gives the interior of "The Detroit" a distinctive appearance, also.

An integral part of the overall architecture of "The Detroit," the garage resembles in appearance an old-fashioned barn. Thus, it gives the house a home, rural air that makes "The Detroit" especially well adapted for building in the suburbs or country. Barn red, with white trim, would make an excellent exterior color scheme for this house.

Overall measurements, including the house and attached garage, are 45 feet by 47 feet; at least a 70-foot lot would be required for "The Detroit." The main house measures 47 feet by 21 feet; cubage is 24,900 feet.

To add even more charm to the exterior appearance of this thoroughly charming home, use decorative "extras" such as a low picket fence, window blinds, and a trellis over which your roses can climb.

The abundance of windows combined with the open planning gives an unusually spacious appearance to the interior of "The Detroit." While there is but one bedroom proper, you can have three bedrooms if you so desire because the 12 foot by 7 foot den can be used as a bedroom and the back porch can be enclosed and also used as a sleeping room. Thus, there is plenty of sleeping space provided, even for a large family.

Any housewife will appreciate the generous size of the closets in "The Detroit." You can give added practical value to the large storage area, in the front wall of the den, by having it lined with cedar. The space can then safely be used as an off-season storage place for woolen clothing and household articles. Additional storage space is available in the unfinished attic as well as in the garage. The home handyman can make the special tool storage section in the garage into a regular work shop. A carpenter's bench can easily be placed against the wall where the man of the house will reap the benefits of the extra light coming through the window centered in that wall.

You'll find the well lighted breakfast nook a pleasant spot in which to serve your family's breakfast; the youngsters will enjoy having their midday lunches there as well as their after school snacks. It'll be no problem to serve dinner in the adjoining dining room.

Your laundry equipment must be installed in the basement of "The Detroit"; it should be located under the kitchen. The heating plant should be placed under the living room.

Blueprints Available
Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 24, Kingston Daily Freeman and enclose a self addressed, 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

Mixture Decides Concrete Strength

The strength of concrete is determined by the water-cement ratio. Under average conditions, the use of six gallons of water to one sack of cement, and enough sand and pebbles to give a workable mixture will provide a strong, watertight concrete.

If seven gallons of water are used to one sack of cement under the same conditions, concrete of much lower strength will result. But if conditions permit the use of only five gallons of water to one sack of cement, concrete of about double strength and durability of the seven gallon mixture will result.

Sloppy mixtures generally produce a weak, porous concrete. Mixtures that are too dry may result in a honeycombed concrete of low strength.

Finish of Furniture

One of the most important selling factors for all lines of furniture these days is the finish. In the topnotch traditional lines, mahogany has an amber tone, especially in the crotch veneers. Saturated colors have been seen in a few lines. Cherry has taken on a less red and more brown hue in the traditional styles and, in the very modern, has adopted a tawny hue.

Have Cash Ready If You're Moving To Another State

Householders who move their goods across state lines should be prepared to pay the trucker on delivery of the load.

The Interstate Commerce Commission explains that "the law provides that it is unlawful for a carrier to relinquish possession of goods until lawful charges have been paid. An exception is where the shipper establishes credit. Most individuals who move their household goods are not regular shippers, and since they have not established credit they must pay on the arrival of the goods."

A man who recently shipped his household effects to Florida, having them arrive on a Wednesday afternoon in the summer when the banks are closed there, met the driver's demand for cash by borrowing from several solvent friends. The alternative was to pay an additional day's rental for the truck.

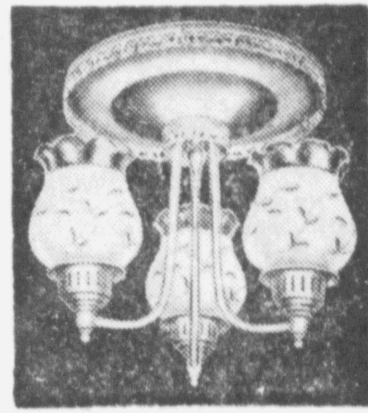

Inspection of Roof

A good home maintenance rule is to make a thorough inspection of the roof in the spring. The purpose is to detect any winter damage before it becomes serious enough to cause harm to the rest of the building or its contents. Patching an old roof is seldom advisable. Most roofing wears uniformly, and the first leak is a sign that others probably will develop soon. In fact, climbing on an old roof to patch it often causes other leaks.

Tests Prove Value Of Home Insulation

Experiments in home heating conducted at the University of Illinois have demonstrated that a room with walls consisting of a two-foot thickness of corkboard could be kept at a comfortable temperature in cold weather simply by using the heat generated by a few electric light bulbs.

This type of wall insulation is far above the budget limits of the average family building a home but there are available on the market many good insulating materials which will substantially reduce the amount of heat lost through the walls.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JANUARY 23, 1954

ULSTER'S SHARE OF FEDERAL BUDGET

Residents of Ulster County will be called on to pay $37,378,000 in direct and indirect Federal taxes if President Eisenhower's budget recommendations for 1954-55 are approved, according to an estimate made by the Empire State Chamber of Commerce.

This Federal burden amounts to 5.4 times the property taxes levied by all local government units—city, village, town, special district and school districts—in the county.

The President's recommendations would hold Federal spending below the expenditures for the current year and this saving will mean $3,020,000 to the residents of Ulster County. This would be enough to pay about 43 per cent of all local property taxes levied by all local governmental units in the county, the Chamber declares.

New York State taxpayers will be required to pay out approximately $9,584,160,000 in Federal taxes as their share of the cost of the Federal spending program of $65.6 billion proposed by President Eisenhower for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1955.

The Chamber calculations show that New York residents will bear 14.61 per cent of the total Federal tax burden. This is three times the amount of taxes collected by all state and local governments, including New York City.

While the burden of Federal spending on New York taxpayers remains great, encouragement is given in this Eisenhower budget by the 5.3 billion reduction below the current year spending estimate of $70.9 billion.

BRIDGE PROGRESS

Opening of sealed bids for the grading and drainage work on the east approach to the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge is another forward step toward completion of the span. Grading and drainage work on the west approach, from Route 32 eastward to the bridge site, has been started.

Work will start on Route 9G a little over a mile north of the Route 9 intersection, and extend westward across Lemon Alley and Barrytown Road to the site of the proposed bridge.

Ultimately the approaches from the east and west will be paved with 24-foot concrete traffic arteries separated by a variable width center mall.

The Grandview Construction Company of Mt. Vernon, which submitted the low bid of $443,836.50 for the work, is expected to receive the contract and start work when weather permits.

INEVITABLE CONFLICT

It is sometimes difficult for Americans to understand why the Communists persist in a relentless effort to undermine and eliminate religion in every part of the world where they come to power. It would seem that it would be politically wiser for the Communists to tolerate religion, to refrain from provoking the people by disturbing a part of their life that is so firmly entrenched.

Religion and communism, however, are unalterably opposed and conflict between them is inevitable. All of the world's great religions teach that man is a creature of God, endowed with an immortal soul and a spark of the divine dignity. The Communists, on the other hand, regard human beings as pawns of the state, to be blown about by the winds of history. Religion, Karl Marx wrote, is the opiate of the people. What he really meant was that people imbued with religious faith are unlikely to be converted to the worship of a dictator or of a totalitarian state.

Conflict between a power-hungry group of men and religious faith is not a new thing in history. Tyrants have tried to eliminate faith before but their efforts have only succeeded in strengthening it. A man's home may be open to the search of secret police, his rights may be curtailed and his voice silenced. But no way has ever been discovered to remove faith from his heart and when the rantings and ravings of evil men are quieted forever the simple prayers of children still will be heard.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE KOREAN ATROCITIES

Senator Charles E. Potter of Michigan, chairman of the Subcommittee on Korean War Atrocities of the McCarthy Committee, has prepared a report on what actually happened there. In this report, now available to the public, he says:

"The purpose of the investigation was to bring to the attention of the world in general and to the American people in particular, the type of vicious and barbaric enemy we have been fighting in Korea, to expose their horrible acts committed against our troops, and to foster appropriate legislation."

He reports that as of November, 1953, 5,639 American troops died "as a result of war crimes." This figure is regarded as conservative and incomplete because:

"... the above American fatalities figure does not represent the total number of American victims of atrocities because many victims survived and were either repatriated or in some other manner found their way back to the United Nations lines. The conservative estimate of probable American victims as of June 1953, was 6,113 which figure is expected to increase when the 'Big Switch' investigations are completed."

"Evidence further showed that the total number of reported civilian victims reaches the number 35,459 persons, with a probable verifiable estimate of 17,354; and that the total number of reported victims among United Nations forces (including United States troops) was 20,785 with a probable verifiable estimate of 11,622."

It is a horrible picture and needs thinking about, particularly in view of the present tendency to consider recognition of Communist China. While in some minds, these atrocities are regarded as having been committed by North Koreans, the fact is that North Korea is now a fief of Communist China and has been completely mastered and absorbed. That country may be regarded as having ceased to exist as a separate and independent sovereignty.

These are the conclusions of the Potter Subcommittee:

"(1) The North Korean and Chinese Communist armies were guilty of the following war crimes and crimes against humanity committed against American personnel during the conflict in Korea from June 25, 1950 until July 27, 1953:

"Murder; attempted murder; malicious and aggravated assaults; various acts of torture, i.e., perforating flesh of prisoners with lighted cigarettes and inserting a can opener into a prisoner's open wound; starvation; deliberate policy of fostering starvation; experimental medical operations; coerced Communist indoctrination; bayonetting."

"(2) The Communist Government in China is equally responsible and guilty as the Communist Government in Korea for war atrocities committed against Americans."

"(3) Virtually every provision of the Geneva Convention governing the treatment of war prisoners was purposely violated or ignored by the North Korean and Chinese forces."

"(4) More than 5,000 American prisoners of war died because of Communist war atrocities and more than a thousand who survived were victims of war crimes."

"(5) Several thousand American soldiers who have not been repatriated were victims of war crimes, died in action, or are presently confined behind the Iron Curtain."

"(6) Communist forces violated the 'Little Switch Agreement' by failing to repatriate the sick and wounded prisoners in accordance with the Panmunjom Truce."

"(7) The Communists in Korea, by false propaganda, have attempted to inaccurately portray the treatment accorded by them to American prisoners of war."

"This report may be obtained by writing to Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, Chairman of the Subcommittee on Investigations, United States Senate, Washington."

The only moral conclusion possible, in view of this report, is that the North Koreans and Chinese Communists ought to be declared outlaw nations by the United Nations. Despite these atrocities, there is a persistent movement in this country to influence public opinion to recognize Communist China. The basis for such a movement is the British assumption that Communist China is an undeniable fact, that we shall all have to deal with that country sooner or later, and that therefore we might as well get on with it. This position evades every moral consideration. Communist China is at war with us and with the United Nations. Is the profit of that war to be recognition?"

That Body of Yours

MENTALLY ILL

Most of us are shocked when we learn that the number of patients in mental hospitals is larger than the number in all other hospitals combined. What will shock us more is to learn that the above is only half the story about mental illness for we learn from the report of Dr. George S. Stevenson, medical director of the National Association for Mental Health that the 650,000 who are in mental hospitals today does not include the number of patients under treatment in clinics and in the office of private practitioners. Even if this 250,000 were counted, there would still be many thousands of men, women and children who are not normal mentally as many of these are "borderline" cases and some are bound to end up in a mental hospital.

Of this number, Dr. Stevenson points out that each of these patients, before he consulted a clinic or physician, was still a sick person but not sick to the point where society was forced to do something about him. Even those of us who may never break down must be a part of the count because of our unwillingness to make provision for it. "We are ashamed of our own inhumanity so we are more content if these problems are hidden as much as possible, ignored when they are developing and concealed in remote state hospitals where they can no longer be avoided in the community."

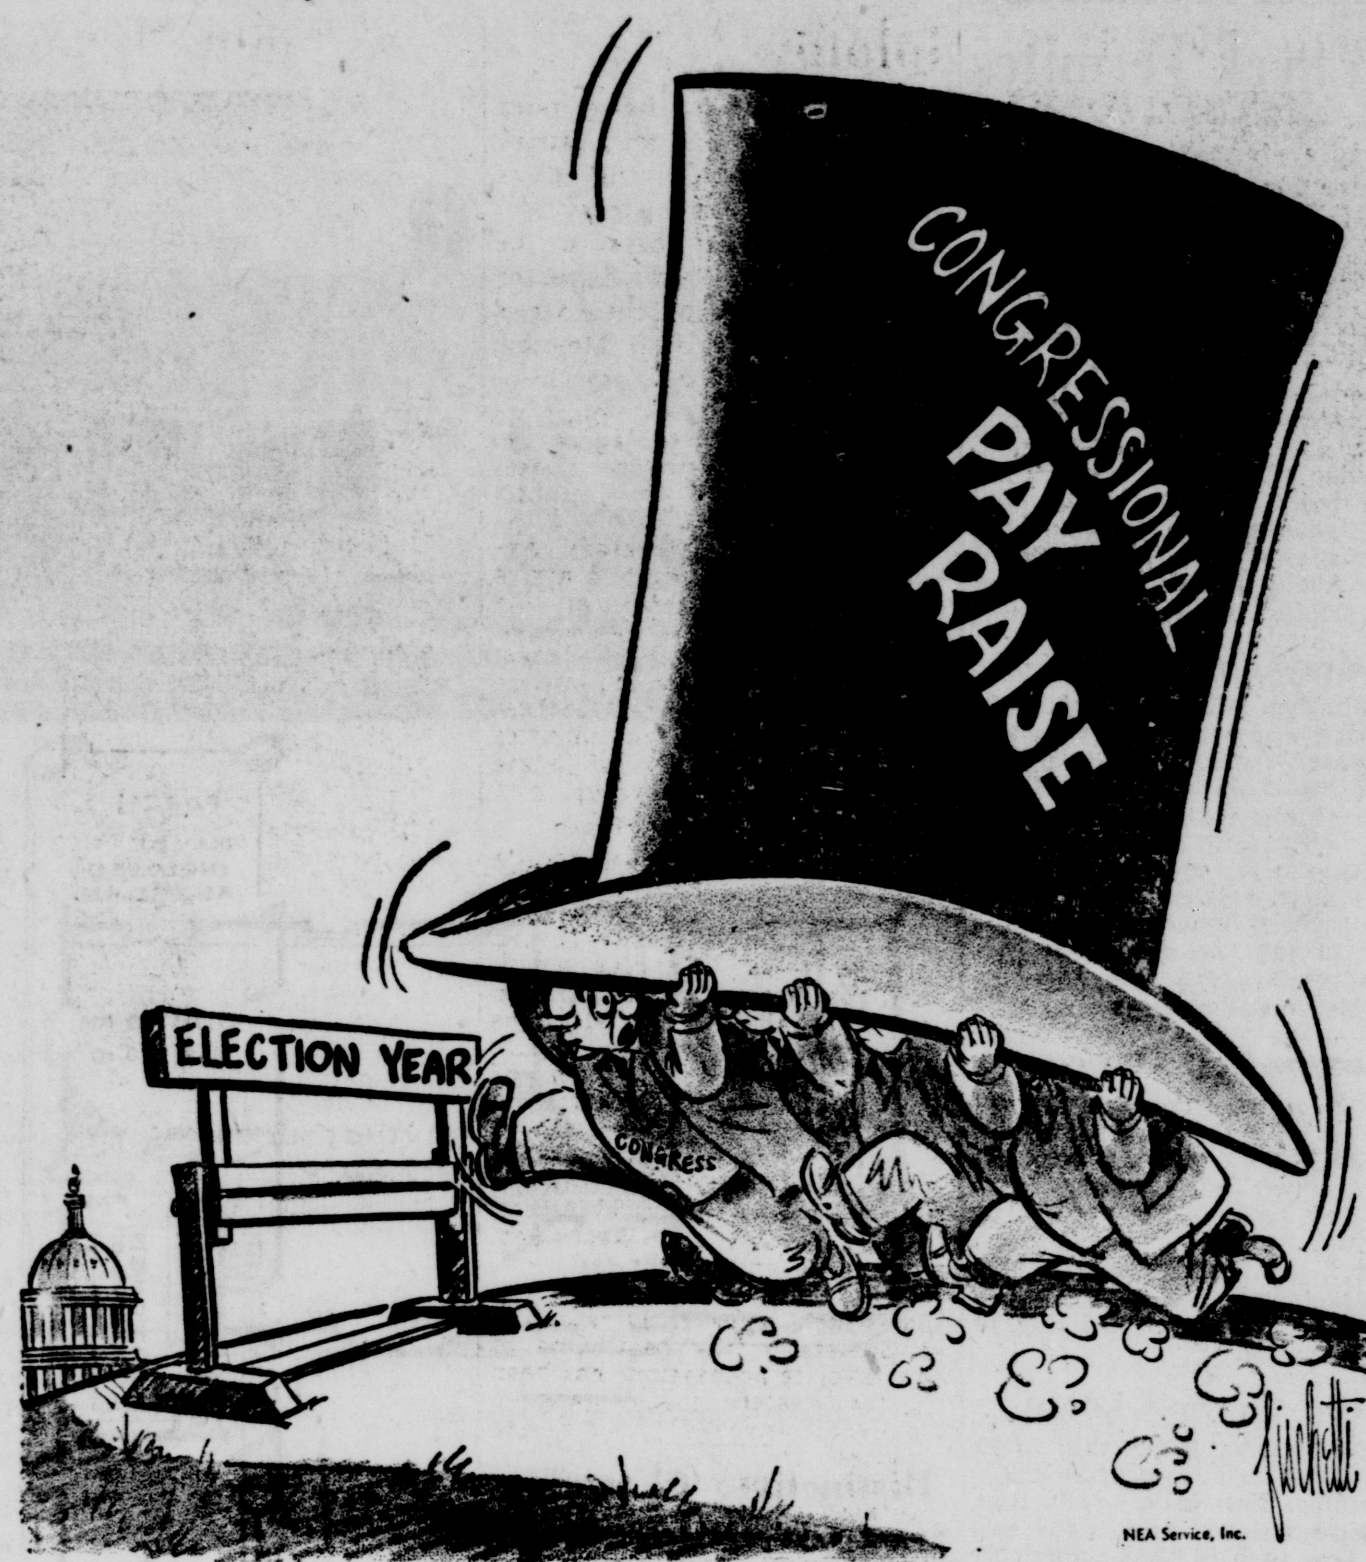

Counting only the mentally ill that come on the records ignores the estimated hundreds of thousands of equally ill in the population who are not listed in the hospitals or because their families want to save themselves shame by hiding these cases at home. The figures also do not take into consideration the number of cases in hospital with other mental diseases whose diseases or ailments are complicated, if not caused, by emotional disturbances. They may be in hospital with arthritis, diabetes, or other physical ailments which disguise the fact that underneath they are really mental cases. The figures omit the millions who are in need of treatment for less severe mental disorders which are wrecking their lives, the happiness of their families and the peace and safety of their communities.

Dr. Stevenson states that we do not need to look at his report or the reports of other psychiatrists. "We need only to look at the daily papers—for any day—to find a ghastly review of mental illness. Murder, suicide, delinquency, sex crimes, kidnapping, broken homes, alcoholism, strife, discord, unhappiness."

"According to an estimate based on 22 years of figures available to any large industry or business, 20 to 25 per cent of the workers are suffering from mental and emotional disturbances which show up in impaired efficiency, accident proneness, chronic absenteeism, habitual infraction of rules."

"What is the other side of the above disheartening picture? We can point to the fact that in a matter of a few decades the rate of discharge from mental hospitals has risen from 35 to 55 per cent. It makes us feel better to know that by new methods of treatment, about 5 of 6 entering mental hospitals can later be discharged to their homes or former occupations."

'Hope We're Not too Conspicuous'

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—Avoiding pitched battles over long-standing, and highly controversial foreign policy issues should be a major objective for Republican leaders in this session of Congress.

New foreign trade policy, the Bricker amendment, extension of mutual security and foreign aid programs and proposals for joint U. S.-Canadian development of the St. Lawrence seaway, are major matters over which knock-down, drag-out fights could arise. Congress extended the old, reciprocal-trade agreements program until June 12, 1954. Before that time, President Eisenhower's commission on foreign-trade policy, headed by Clarence M. Randall, must make its report and the Congress must act on it. Long and hot debate are in prospect, as this involves the tariff fight that has been a bitter political issue for over 100 years.

Ohio Sen. John W. Bricker's proposed constitutional amendment to define the President's power to make treaties and extend agreements, binding on the U. S. is a highly emotional subject.

The original Bricker amendment would practically have given the individual states a veto over the President's treaty-making powers. As modified by Senate committee and as it now stands, the Bricker amendment would not contain this restriction, but it would require legislation by Congress to make the provisions of any treaty effective as U. S. law. President Eisenhower, Secretary of State Dulles and Attorney General Brownell all oppose the amendment.

Restates Present Law
Sen. William F. Knowland of

California has introduced a substitute amendment which merely restates present law. It has the approval of President Eisenhower, but not Senator Bricker.

President Eisenhower's recommendations on the size of the continuing foreign aid and mutual security programs are being saved for his messages to the new session of Congress.

Secretary Dulles has said these programs must go on. Foreign Operations Administrator Harold Stassen has said they can be reduced by a billion dollars or so from this year's $4.5 billion. But there is considerable sentiment in Congress to cut it further.

Another showdown, which the Congress hopes it can avoid, is over the Foreign Operations amendment by Rep. James P. Richards (D-S. C.) which would require that half of the European arms aid must go to building forces.

The St. Lawrence seaway matter has been kicked around in Congress for years in a game of conflicting local and business interests. Final approval is still uncertain.

Ratification of the Mutual Defense treaty with Korea is a major matter of Senate consideration. Treaty was signed Aug. 7, 1953. Status of peace-treaty negotiations, the conduct of South Korean President Syngman Rhee's government, or a new outbreak of hostilities could all have bearing on final Senate action.

Legislation is required to implement a new international copyright convention with 40 nations. The convention can't be ratified until corresponding changes have been made in U. S. law. There's a legislative jam over which will be done first.

Curtail Import of Books
In connection with this, bills have been pending in Congress for two years to restrict imports into the U. S. of books printed in English in other countries. This matter was given no attention by the last session of Congress.

Ratification of the North American regional broadcast agreement is another stickler. Canada, Cuba, Dominican Republic and United Kingdom, acting for the Bahamas Islands, are involved. U. S. broadcasters now having clear channels are fighting allocation of these channels for use in the other countries.

Something will have to be done to reconstitute the International Claims Commission. It was created to handle claims of U. S. citizens for property seized under nationalization laws of foreign countries. A kitty of $400,000 from Panama and $17 million from Yugoslavia has to be divided up.

A number of tax treaties and similar minor international complications are now in negotiation, but there is no certainty how many will be ready for action by the new session of Congress.

Plan Support Given

Washington, Jan. 22 (AP)—President Eisenhower's "new concept" for defense, emphasizing air power and new weapons while making a four billion dollar spending cut, got enthusiastic Republican support in Congress today. Many Democrats, with one exception, they wanted to study the complex multi-billion dollar budget, but Sen. Maybank (D-S.C.) in an interview asked "expansion of our air power as fast as we can." He suggested unspent foreign aid funds be used to speed the air force program.

P-FO Adopts New Ruling to Deal With Dog Problem

New Paltz, Jan. 22—The third all-school meeting for parents of Campus School children was well attended. Mrs. Albert Kerr, Chairman of the Parent-Faculty Organization, presided. The program featured Dr. James G. Cooper as speaker on Adolescent Problems. During the business hour committee reports were heard.

A proposed ordinance to serve as a solution to the problem of dogs on the school grounds was read by Mrs. Robert Clarkson, chairman of the health and safety committee. The ordinance was agreed upon by parents and teachers attending the meeting Wednesday and will be presented to the Village Board at its monthly meeting Jan. 25. The proposed ordinance reads:

RESOLVED THAT: The Board of Trustees of the Village of New Paltz does hereby enact the following ordinance, pursuant to the provisions of Section 89 (12) and Section 90 of the Village Law.

Section 1: No person shall allow his dog to run at large upon any school playgrounds within the village from 8:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. when school is in session. Any dog found upon any school playground unless on a leash and accompanied by a responsible person shall be considered to be running-at-large and shall be a violation of this ordinance.

Section 2: This ordinance shall take effect immediately upon its enactment.

No Penalty Clause

Mrs. Clarkson explained that the committee had added no penalty clause which would be a necessary part of such an ordinance, should it be adopted by the village board. The committee felt the Village Board better able to add a clause of this nature.

After some discussion regarding the necessity of such a move, the general feeling seemed to prevail that the increasing number of dogs in the area, growth of population, and the continued harassment of children on the school grounds by groups of six and seven dogs daily warranted such a move.

The proposed resolution was adopted by unanimous voice vote. Mrs. Xan Green, chairman of the children's activities committee reported that a large number of parents had expressed definite interest in the dancing lesson plan proposed by her committee and that lessons would begin Saturday, Feb. 7.

A flyer, containing a registration blank, will be sent home with every child next week, Mrs. Green reported. The age limit for tap dancing has been lowered to six years.

Mrs. Keith Smiley reported that Family Fun Night will be held March 26 and will be an excellent opportunity for "the whole family to see the school school."

Needs A Given

An interesting explanation of the need for a new elementary school and additions to the high school was given by Mrs. John Jacobson, chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee, appointed by the school board. She pointed out that a more comprehensive meeting would be held in February, when members of the school board will be present to explain costs, and more fully to discuss the plans.

Albert Kerr invited everyone to visit the school library and to take advantage of the fine collection of books to be found. Following Dr. Cooper's talk a lively discussion of problems of early adolescents and their parents was held.

The majority of the more than 75 parents present were set at rest by Dr. Cooper when they learned that parents, as well as children, have rights too.

Dr. Cooper, professor of Human Growth and Development at the State University Teachers' College at New Paltz, humorously exploited the theory that only children have rights and demands.

He informed the parents that they should encourage expression of real feelings in the family. "In the past several years, parents have developed a guilt conscience thinking everything they do is wrong. Let's stand up for ourselves," Dr. Cooper asserted, "and show the child that he has obligations to his family and that in many issues there must be give and take on both sides."

Several problems of children in the seventh and eighth grades in relation to their parents were cited by Dr. Cooper and discussed by the audience. "The children say that their parents holler at them, that they do not listen to them, that they are taught that the parent is always right and mother knows best, and that the older children have to do too much baby-sitting." In each case Dr. Cooper stressed that the parent should make their own rights known to the child and that a happier family life is the result. Those in attendance reported that the meeting had been interesting and worthwhile.

LeFevre Is Honored By Welfare Workers

New Paltz, Jan. 22—Louis DuBois LeFevre, who is retiring from the Ulster County Welfare Department February 1 after 15 years, was honored Monday evening by his co-workers with a dinner at Leher's Restaurant.

He was presented with a pen and pencil set and a wrist watch. LeFevre was also honored January 14 on his birthday by members of his family at the home of his brother Philip LeFevre of Tarrytown. The following evening they attended the play, "Picnic," in New York.

Last Saturday his daughter Miss Anne LeFevre, a student at Columbia University, took her parents to see "The King and I." Miss LeFevre is working toward an M. A. in the School of Social Work and lives at the International House.

Pack Earns $27.50 By Selling Swags

New Paltz, Jan. 22—The Cub Scout Pack committee meeting was held on Monday at the Campus School.

Kelly Campbell, financial secretary of the Cub Scouts reported that the Cub Scouts had earned $27.50 assisting the Garden Club in selling door swags at Christmas. Cubbing expenses are not fully met by dues and other small projects are required to balance the budget. The committee feels that assisting the Garden Club each year will serve the dual purpose of earning the needed funds and cooperating in a community project to help beautify the village.

Mrs. Ann Elderly has taken Den 2 for Mrs. George Bond, it was reported. Den meetings are held at Mrs. David Corwin's on Ridge road. Mrs. Bond will continue to work with Cubbing by leading the music programs at the Pack meetings. Two new boys have been accepted in Cubbing, Michael O'Hara, Den 2, and Richard Tenedini, Den 5.

George J. Forte, program chairman, announced the name of the program for the next Pack meet would be Showmen. The Cub Scouts will present their version of television program at the January 29 Pack meeting.

Mrs. Jay Entertains

WSCS at Luncheon
New Paltz, Jan. 22—Mrs. William C. Jay, president of the WSWS, entertained the officers at an executive committee luncheon meeting and study course last Tuesday.

Future plans were made to enlarge the society and to assist other departments within the church. The new revised edition of the Bible will be obtained for the Sunday school to make Bible reading easier for children. Activity cards will be ordered and distributed to interest church members in some phase of church work.

Items to come before the next meeting of the society will include the summer fair, installation service and rereading of the budget.

Those attending were Mrs. Walter Dyer, Mrs. Joseph Sullivan, Mrs. Joseph Marks, Mrs. Alvin Beatty, Miss Margaret Langwick, Mrs. Clifford Van Valkenburgh, Mrs. Joseph Graham, Mrs. Herbert Phillips, Mrs. Roman Hutten, Mrs. Willet Porter and Mrs. Jay.

To Hold Blind Sale

New Paltz, Jan. 22—Mrs. Clyde Ritter, a representative for the Alban Association of the Blind, Inc., was in New Paltz Monday and Tuesday to arrange for a two-day sale in February. Women's organizations in the Reformed, Methodist, Episcopal and Catholic churches will be in charge. Mrs. Ritter is general chairman. Date, time and place will be announced later.

Two New Businesses To Open in Village

New Paltz, Jan. 22—Two new businesses are scheduled for New Paltz.

Edwin C. Stoessel of Benton Corners will open a haberdashery at 78 Main street next to the Campus Restaurant, offering a complete line of men's clothing. Remodeling work is now in progress with opening set for mid-February.

Dr. Cooper, who has operated a greenhouse on Plutarch road for 10 years, will specialize in floral work and will not handle nursery stock. New arrangements and decorations will be available, mostly supplied with flowers from his own greenhouse. Opening date is scheduled for some time in April.

Bank Holds Election

New Paltz, Jan. 22—The Huguenot National Bank of New Paltz held its annual stockholders' meeting and election of directors January 12 at the Old Fort with 18 attending. The present board of directors was re-elected: Edward P. Demarest, Martin L. DuBois, Jay LeFevre, J. E. Hasbrouck, Jr., Andrew J. Snyder, Harold L. Wood and Henry W. DuBois.

DuBois Is Named To Head Paltz Club

New Paltz, Jan. 22—At the first January meeting of the Paltz Club David Corwin, chairman of the committee on nominations, presented a slate of officers which was accepted. Elected were Henry DuBois, president; Frank Burgar, vice-president; Jay A. LeFevre, secretary; and Wilbur Fredenburgh, treasurer.

Louis D. LeFevre was in charge of the program. Albert Becker of Benton Corners gave the group an interesting account of survival in a lifeboat. During World War 2 he was torpedoed and spent 46 days in a life boat with 11 companions. They survived by catching fish and rain water.

Record Flight Made

Hatfield, England, Jan. 22 (AP)—Britain's latest version of its grounded Comet jet airliner—the Series II—flashed 3,080 miles from London to Khartoum, Sudan, today in the record time of 6 hours, 29 minutes. The old mark of 14 hours, 24 minutes 47 seconds was set by a Royal Air Force Lincoln bomber in 1950. The new Comet, carrying only technicians, left here at 7:40 a. m. (2:40 a. m. EST) with a group Capt. John Cunningham at the controls. During the flight under tropical weather tests in Khartoum.

Pepper once was used as money by the people of the Dutch East Indies.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JANUARY 23, 1954

ULSTER'S SHARE OF FEDERAL BUDGET

Residents of Ulster County will be called on to pay $37,378,000 in direct and indirect Federal taxes if President Eisenhower's budget recommendations for 1954-55 are approved, according to an estimate made by the Empire State Chamber of Commerce.

This Federal burden amounts to 5.4 times the property taxes levied by all local government units—city, village, town, special district and school districts—in the county.

The President's recommendations would hold Federal spending below the expenditures for the current year and this saving will mean $3,020,000 to the residents of Ulster County. This would be enough to pay about 43 per cent of all local property taxes levied by all local governmental units in the county, the Chamber declares.

New York State taxpayers will be required to pay out approximately $9,584,160,000 in Federal taxes as their share of the cost of the Federal spending program of $65.6 billion proposed by President Eisenhower for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1955.

The Chamber calculations show that New York residents will bear 14.61 per cent of the total Federal tax burden. This is three times the amount of taxes collected by all state and local governments, including New York City.

While the burden of Federal spending on New York taxpayers remains great, encouragement is given in this Eisenhower budget by the 5.3 billion reduction below the current year spending estimate of $70.9 billion.

BRIDGE PROGRESS

Opening of sealed bids for the grading and drainage work on the east approach to the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge is another forward step toward completion of the span. Grading and drainage work on the west approach, from Route 32 eastward to the bridge site, has been started.

Work will start on Route 9G a little over a mile north of the Route 9 intersection, and extend westward across Lemon Alley and Barrytown Road to the site of the proposed bridge.

Ultimately the approaches from the east and west will be paved with 24-foot concrete traffic arteries separated by a variable width center mall.

The Grandview Construction Company of Mt. Vernon, which submitted the low bid of $443,836.50 for the work, is expected to receive the contract and start work when weather permits.

INEVITABLE CONFLICT

It is sometimes difficult for Americans to understand why the Communists persist in a relentless effort to undermine and eliminate religion in every part of the world where they come to power. It would seem that it would be politically wiser for the Communists to tolerate religion, to refrain from provoking the people by disturbing a part of their life that is so firmly entrenched.

Religion and communism, however, are unalterably opposed and conflict between them is inevitable. All of the world's great religions teach that man is a creature of God, endowed with an immortal soul and a spark of the divine dignity. The Communists, on the other hand, regard human beings as pawns of the state, to be blown about by the winds of history. Religion, Karl Marx wrote, is the opiate of the people. What he really meant was that people imbued with religious faith are unlikely to be converted to the worship of a dictator or of a totalitarian state.

Conflict between a power-hungry group of men and religious faith is not a new thing in history. Tyrants have tried to eliminate faith before but their efforts have only succeeded in strengthening it. A man's home may be open to the search of secret police, his rights may be curtailed and his voice silenced. But no way has ever been discovered to remove faith from his heart and when the rantings and ravings of evil men are quieted forever the simple prayers of children still will be heard.

THE KOREAN ATROCITIES

Senator Charles E. Potter of Michigan, chairman of the Subcommittee on Korean War Atrocities of the McCarthy Committee, has prepared a report on what actually happened there. In this report, now available to the public, he says:

"The purpose of the investigation was to bring to the attention of the world in general and to the American people in particular, the type of vicious and barbaric enemy we have been fighting in Korea, to expose their horrible acts committed against our troops, and to foster appropriate legislation."

He reports that as of November, 1953, 5,639 American troops died "as a result of war crimes." This figure is regarded as conservative and incomplete because:

"... the above American fatalities figure does not represent the total number of American victims of atrocities because many victims survived and were either repatriated or in some other manner found their way back to the United Nations lines. The conservative estimate of probable American victims as of June 1953, was 6,113 which figure is expected to increase when the 'Big Switch' investigations are completed."

"Evidence further showed that the total number of reported civilian victims reaches the number 35,459 persons, with a probable verifiable estimate of 11,354; and that the total number of reported victims among United Nations forces (including United States troops) was 20,785 with a probable verifiable estimate of 11,627."

It is a horrible picture and needs thinking about, particularly in view of the present tendency to consider recognition of Communist China. While in some minds, these atrocities are regarded as having been committed by North Koreans, the fact is that North Korea is now a fief of Communist China and has been completely mastered and absorbed. That country may be regarded as having ceased to exist as a separate and independent sovereignty.

These are the conclusions of the Potter Subcommittee:

"(1) The North Korean and Chinese Communist armies were guilty of the following war crimes and crimes against humanity committed against American personnel during the conflict in Korea from June 25, 1950 until July 27, 1953:

"Murder; attempted murder; malicious and aggravated assaults; various acts of torture, i.e., perforating flesh of prisoners with lighted cigarettes and inserting a can opener into a prisoner's open wound; starvation; deliberate policy of fostering starvation; experimental medical operations; coerced Communist indoctrination; bayonetting."

"(2) The Communist Government in China is equally responsible and guilty as the Communist Government in Korea for war atrocities committed against Americans."

"(3) Virtually every provision of the Geneva Convention governing the treatment of war prisoners was purposely violated or ignored by the North Korean and Chinese forces."

"(4) More than 5,000 American prisoners of war died because of Communist war atrocities and more than a thousand who survived were victims of war crimes."

"(5) Several thousand American soldiers who have not been repatriated are victims of war crimes, died in action, or are presently confined behind the Iron Curtain."

"(6) Communist forces violated the 'Little Switch Agreement' by failing to repatriate the sick and wounded prisoners in accordance with the Panmunjom Truce."

"(7) The Communists in Korea, by false propaganda, have attempted to inculcate in the minds of the American people the impression that the treatment accorded by them to American prisoners of war is humane."

(This report may be obtained by writing to Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, Chairman of the Subcommittee on Investigations, United States Senate, Washington, D. C.)

The only move toward conclusion possible, in view of this report, is that the North Koreans and Chinese Communists ought to be declared outlaw nations by the United Nations. Despite these atrocities, there is a persistent movement in this country to influence public opinion to recognize Communist China. The basis for such a movement is the British assumption that Communist China is an undeniable fact that we shall all have to deal with that country sooner or later, and that therefore we might as well get on with it. This position evades every moral consideration. Communist China is at war with us and with the United Nations. Is the profit of that war to be recognition?

MENTALLY ILL

Most of us are shocked when we learn that the number of patients in mental hospitals is larger than the number in all other hospitals combined. What will shock us more is to learn that the above is only half the story about mental illness for we learn from the report of Dr. George S. Stevenson, medical director of the National Association for Mental Health that the 650,000 who are in mental hospitals today does not include the number of patients under treatment in clinics and in the office of private practitioners. Even if this 250,000 were counted, there would still be many thousands of men, women and children who are not normal mentally as many of these are "borderline" cases and some are bound to end up in a mental hospital. Of this number, Dr. Stevenson points out that "each of these patients, before he consulted a clinic or physician, was still a sick person but not sick to the point where society was forced to do something about him. Even those of us who may never break down must be a part of the count because of our unwillingness to make provision for it. "We are ashamed of our own inhumanity so we are more content if these problems are hidden as much as possible, ignored when they are developing and concealed in remote state hospitals where they can no longer be avoided in the community."

Counting only the mentally ill that come on the records ignores the estimated hundreds of thousands of equally ill in the population who are not listed in the hospitals or because their families want to save themselves shame by hiding these cases at home. The figures also do not take into consideration the number of cases in hospital with other mental diseases whose diseases are complicated, not caused by emotional disturbances. They may be in hospital with arthritis, diabetes, or other physical ailments which disguise the fact that underneath they are really mental cases. The figures omit the millions who are in need of treatment for less severe mental disorders which are wrecking their lives; the happiness of their families and the peace and safety of their communities.

Dr. Stevenson states that we do not need to look at his report or the reports of other psychiatrists. "We need only to look at the daily papers—for any day—to find a ghastly review of mental illness. Murder, suicide, delinquency, sex crimes, kidnapping, broken homes, alcoholism, strife, discord, unhappiness."

"According to an estimate based on 22 years of figures available to any large industry or business, 20 to 25 per cent of the workers are suffering from mental and emotional disturbances which show up in impaired efficiency, accident proneness, chronic absenteeism, habitual infraction of rules."

What is the other side of the above disheartening picture?

We can point to the fact that in a matter of a few decades the rate of discharge from mental hospitals has risen from 35 to 55 per cent. It makes us feel better to know that by new methods of treatment, about 5 of 6 entering mental hospitals can later be discharged to their homes or former occupations.

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—Avoiding pitched battles over long-standing, and highly controversial foreign policy issues should be a major objective for Republican leaders in this session of Congress.

New foreign trade policy, the Bricker amendment, extension of mutual security and foreign aid programs and proposals for joint U. S.-Canadian development of the St. Lawrence seaway, are major matters over which knock-down, drag-out fights could arise.

Congress extended the old, reciprocal-trade agreements program until June 12, 1954. Before that time, President Eisenhower's commission on foreign-trade policy, headed by Clarence M. Randall, must make its report and the Congress must act on it. Long hearings and hot debate are in prospect, as this involves the tariff fight that has been a bitter political issue for over 100 years.

Ohio Sen. John W. Bricker's proposed constitutional amendment to define the President's power to make treaties and executive agreements binding on the U. S. is a highly emotional subject.

The original Bricker amendment would practically have given the individual states a veto over the President's treaty-making powers. As modified by Senate committee and as it now stands, the Bricker amendment would not contain this restriction, but it would require legislation by Congress to make the provisions of any treaty effective as U. S. law. President Eisenhower, Secretary of State Dulles and Attorney General Brownell all oppose the amendment.

Restates Present Law
Sen. William F. Knowland of

California has introduced a substitute amendment which merely restates present law. It has the approval of President Eisenhower, but not Senator Bricker.

The proposed resolution was adopted by unanimous voice vote. Mrs. Xan Green, chairman of the children's activities committee reported that a large number of parents had expressed definite interest in the dance lesson plan proposed by her committee and that lessons would begin Saturday, Feb. 7.

A flyer, containing a registration blank, will be sent home with every child next week. Mrs. Green reported. The age limit for registration has been lowered to six years.

Mrs. Keith Smiley reported that Family Fun Night will be held March 26 and will be an excellent opportunity for "the whole family to see the whole school."

Need for New School

An interesting explanation of the need for a new elementary school and additions to the high school was given by Mrs. John Jacobson, chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee, appointed by the school board. She promised a larger, more comprehensive meeting would be held in February, when members of the school board will be present to explain costs, and more fully to discuss the plans.

Albert Kerr invited everyone to visit the school library and to take advantage of the fine collection of books to be found.

Following Dr. Cooper's talk a lively discussion of problems of early adolescents and their parents was held.

Dr. Cooper, professor of Human Growth and Development at the State University Teachers College at New Paltz, humorously exploited the fact that only children have rights and demands. He informed the parents that they should encourage expression of real feelings in the family.

In the past several years, parents have developed a guilt conscience thinking everything they do is wrong. Let's stand up for ourselves, Dr. Cooper asserted, "and show the child that he has obligations to his family and that in many issues there must be give and take on both sides."

Several problems of children in the seventh and eighth grades in relation to their parents were cited by Dr. Cooper and discussed by the audience. "The children say that their parents holler at them, that they do not listen to them, that they are taught that the parent is always right and mother knows best, and that the older children have to do too much baby-sitting." In each case Dr. Cooper stressed that the parent should make their own rights known to the child and that a happier family life is the result.

Those in attendance reported that the meeting had been interesting and worthwhile.

LeFevre Is Honored By Welfare Workers

New Paltz, Jan. 22—Louis DuBois LeFevre, who is retiring from the Ulster County Welfare Department, February 1 after 15 years, was honored Monday evening by his co-workers with a dinner at Leher's Restaurant.

He was presented with a pen and pencil set and a wrist watch. LeFevre was also honored January 14 on his birthday by members of his family at the home of his brother, Philip LeFevre of Tarrytown. The following evening they attended the play, "Picnic," in New York.

Last Saturday his daughter Miss Anne LeFevre, a student at Columbia University, took her parents to see "The King and I." Miss LeFevre is working toward an M.A. in the School of Social Work and lives at the International House.

Pack Earns $27.50

New Paltz, Jan. 22—The Cub Scout Pack committee meeting was held on Monday at the Campus School.

Kelly Campbell, financial secretary of the Cub Scouts reported that the Cub Scouts had earned $27.50 assisting the Garden Club in selling door swags at Christmas. Cubbing expenses are not fully met by dues and other small projects are required to balance the budget. The committee feels that assisting the Garden Club each year will serve the dual purpose of earning the needed funds and cooperating in a community project to help beautify the village.

Mrs. Ann Enderly has taken Den 2 for Mrs. George Bond, it was reported. Den meetings are held at Mrs. David Corwin's on Ridge Road. Mrs. Bond will continue to work with Cubbing by leading the music programs at the Pack meetings. Two new boys have been accepted in Cubbing, Michael O'Hara, Den 2, and Richard Tenedini, Den 5.

George La Porte, program chairman, announced the name of the program for the next Pack meeting will be Showmen. The Cub Scouts will present their version of television programs at the January 29 Pack meeting.

Mrs. Jay Entertains WSOS at Luncheon

New Paltz, Jan. 22—Mrs. William C. Jay, president of the WSOS, entertained the officers at an executive committee luncheon meeting and study course last Tuesday.

Future plans were made to enlarge the society and to assist other departments within the church. The new revised edition of the Bible will be obtained for the Sunday school to make Bible reading easier for children. Activity cards will be ordered and distributed to interest church members in some phase of church work.

Items to come before the next meeting of the society will include the summer fair, installation service and rereading of the budget.

Those attending were Mrs. William C. Jay, Mrs. J. C. Sullivan, Mrs. Joseph Marks, Mrs. Alvin Beatty, Miss Margaret Langwick, Mrs. Clifford Van Valkenburgh, Mrs. Joseph Graham, Mrs. Herbert Phillips, Mrs. Roman Hutson, Mrs. Willet Porter and Mrs. Jay.

To Hold Blind Sale

New Paltz, Jan. 22—Mrs. Clyde Ritter, a representative for the Albany Association of the Blind, Inc., was in New Paltz Monday and Tuesday to arrange for a two-day sale in February. Women's organizations in the Reformed, Methodist, Episcopal and Catholic churches will be in charge. Mrs. Alvin Beatty is general chairman. Date, time and place will be announced later.

Two New Businesses To Open in Village

New Paltz, Jan. 22—Two new businesses are scheduled for New Paltz.

Edwin C. Stoesel of Benton Corners will open a haberdashery at 78 Main street next to the Campus Restaurant, offering a complete line of men's clothing. Remodeling work is now in progress with opening set for mid-February.

On the property adjoining Deamley's Drug Store a new building is being erected, a modern florist shop which will be run by Joseph Anzelone of Plutarch road. Anzelone, who has operated a greenhouse on Plutarch road for 10 years, will specialize in floral work and will not handle nursery stock. New arrangements and decorations will be available, mostly supplied with flowers from his own greenhouse. Opening date is scheduled for some time in April.

Bank Holds Election

New Paltz, Jan. 22—The Huguenot National Bank of New Paltz held its annual stockholders' meeting and election of directors January 12 at the O'Leary Fort with 18 attending. The present board of directors was re-elected: Edward P. Demarest, Martin L. DuBois, Jay LeFevre, J. E. Hasbrouck, Jr., Andrew J. Snyder, Harold L. Wood and Henry W. DuBois.

DuBois Is Named To Head Paltz Club

New Paltz, Jan. 22—At the first January meeting of the Paltz Club David Corwin, chairman of the committee on nominations, presented a slate of officers which was accepted. Elected were Henry DuBois, president; Frank Bugar, vice-president; Jay A. LeFevre, secretary; and Wilbur Fredenburg, treasurer.

Louis D. LeFevre was in charge of the program. Albert Becker of Benton Corners gave the group an interesting account of survival in a lifeboat. During World War 2 he was torpedoed and spent 46 days in a life boat with 11 companions. They survived by catching fish and rain water.

Record Flight Made

Hatfield, England, Jan. 22 (AP)—Britain's latest version of its grounded Comet jet airliner—the Series II—flashed 3,080 miles from London to Kathartum, Sudan, today in the record time of 6 hours, 29 minutes. The old mark of 14 hours, 24 minutes 47 seconds was set by a Royal Air Force Lincoln bomber in 1950. The new Comet, carrying only technicians, left here at 7:40 a. m. (2:40 a. m. EST) with a Capt. John Cunningham at the controls. The plane will undergo tropical weather tests in Kathartum.

Pepper once was used as money by the people of the Dutch East Indies.

Must Keep Date
New York, Jan. 23 (AP)—For globe-trotting playboy Pietro Francesco Mele there will be no immediate Rome in the honeymoon. He is scheduled to leave for Rome at least until after March 2. He has a date then with a judge as a result of his battle with police last Nov. 10 when the officers hustled him out of the Park avenue apartment of safe society beauty Brenda Frazier Kelly. Mele, while claiming he wasn't running away from anything, started out for Rome yesterday aboard the liner Constitution. However, the Manhattan district attorney's office heard about the trip and contacted the vessel as she headed for the open sea. Mele, 30, said his lawyer advised him he could leave the country and said he intended to be back in time for the court date. The Roman said he was returning to the Italian capital to take law examinations at the University of Rome.

Sinatra Escapes Injury
Beverly Hills, Calif., Jan. 23 (AP)—Singer Frank Sinatra escaped uninjured in a traffic accident that sent Mrs. Myrna McClees to a receiving hospital yesterday. Mrs. McClees, driving a small English car, sustained a severe concussion and bruises, doctors said. Sinatra, driving a Cadillac, said he stopped at an intersection, looked both ways and saw no oncoming traffic. Officers quoted him as saying he did not see Mrs. McClees' car, which suddenly loomed in front of him. The woman was taken home after being treated at the hospital.

Stamps Banned
Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Jan. 23 (AP)—Yugoslavia outlawed today the entrance of all mail bearing stamps portraying Alojzije Rhee, spiritual leader of this country's seven million Roman Catholics. The decree, printed in the official gazette, said the stamp carried also a map of Croatia, part of Yugoslavia, which Italy attempted to set up as a puppet state in World War II. The official gazette said the stamp "tends toward propagating national and religious inequality, hatred and dissension."

Another Editor Arrested
Buenos Aires, Argentina, Jan. 23 (AP)—Federal police today arrested another newspaper editor charged with publishing an article showing disrespect for President Peron. It was the first such arrest since the government launched its new "pacification" policy aimed at ending political prisoners. Latest to be arrested is Abel Guillermo Estrada, 25, editor of Pregon, published at Coronel Suarez in Buenos Aires province.

Molotov . . .

ance for the Big Four-Power talks on German unity and an Austrian independence treaty, the three western foreign ministers conferred for several hours in the French sector. They discussed plans for coordinating their views for their meeting with Molotov. It will be the first such session of the Big Four foreign ministers since they failed to agree on Austrian independence at a session in New York in October, 1949.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden was the first to arrive for the strategy talks at the French high commissioner's residence deep in the Tegel Forest area of northern Berlin, where French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault was host. Eight minutes later U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles drove up.

Devise Two Broad Plans
Diplomatic sources said the Western ministers have devised two broad plans for getting some positive results out of the Big Four talks. One plan would retain the key Western stipulation that free all-German elections must precede a formation of any unified government. The Russians have opposed this view, insisting that Germany's government should be unified before elections. The second allied plan, of British origin, envisages a practicable way of life for East and West Germany if the unity talks fail.

The strategy meeting was the kind which apparently annoyed the Soviets in the past. One of their favorite accusations has been that the Western powers gang up to prevent any real Four-Power exchange.

Molotov apparently brought a large staff and is expected to stay at the Russian Embassy, which is just 200 yards inside the eastern sector of quarantined Berlin. The second week's sessions of the conference will be held in this building. The foreign ministers will meet the first week in the former Allied Control Authority building in the American sector.

Sen Byrd . . .

fenses without insolvency," Byrd declared.

The defense budget proposed for the fiscal year beginning July 1 would be four billion dollars under the current year's.

Gore complained that so far as he knew no Democrats had been consulted on the big defense decisions. He questioned whether events might not expose the "massive retaliation" theory "as a big bluff."

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican floor leader, has been reported to doubt the possibility the United States might use an atom bomb on a city considered a legitimate target was to make a "very dangerous assumption." He said such an assumption might give comfort to Moscow and he added:

"I would not want the men in the Kremlin to miscalculate that such a strike might not be made."

Doubts Use of Weapons
Gore had expressed doubt that either of two great powers possessing weapons that could obliterate each other's cities would take the first step in so using them.

Byrd gave his views in an interview, saying:

"We must keep the lead in atomic and other weapons and with the foreign bases which are coming into being we can make this threat of retaliation so real that I don't believe the Communists will dare move toward war."

Secretary of Defense Wilson expressed similar opinions in a Pentagon news conference yesterday. He said also he thought the army, under the reduction planned for it, could still carry out its mission. If a big land war should develop, he said, "it would seem to be a pretty sure bet it would come on the continental United States."

And he argued that in such a case land forces could be built up quickly.

May Take Stand
Miami, Fla., Jan. 23 (AP)—Russell Tongay, husky father-teacher of the famed "aquatots," Kathy and Bubba Tongay, may take the stand Monday in his own defense against charges that he caused Kathy's death by forcing her to dive from dangerous heights. Tongay's manslaughter trial was recessed yesterday until Monday after County Solicitor John Marsh had presented all but one of the state's witnesses. Five-year-old Kathy Tongay died last May 5 after practicing dives from the top of the 33-foot tower at the MacFadden-Deauville Hotel pool in Miami Beach. Dr. Victor Calderin, who performed an autopsy, said death was caused by peritonitis brought on by a ruptured intestine.

Orders Secret Death
Seoul, Jan. 23 (AP)—South Korean President Syngman Rhee today personally called off a public execution and ordered an editor, Chung Kook Eun, convicted of spying for the Communists put to death in secret. Chung was well known by foreign correspondents now in Korea and officials said Rhee was concerned by the possible foreign reaction to a public execution. Government officials said the execution might take place Sunday in secret at Sasaek, about seven miles west of Seoul.

Says Mao Is Ill
London, Jan. 23 (AP)—A British publicist who claims to have sources behind the Iron Curtain said today that Red China's leader Mao Tse-tung has been ill since September. The Intelligence Digest and Weekly Review edited by Kenneth De Courcy said Mao spent at least part of the last four months in a Peiping Hospital. The newsletter wrote that Mao is under continual medical supervision by a Chinese and a Russian doctor and that the Russian doctor is known to be a cancer expert.

The Rev. and Mrs. Doris E. Fritts entertained Tuesday night in honor of a church member, Eugene Gross, who has returned from Japan, where he served in the Army of Occupation for two years. He showed many beautiful colored slides, which he took in Japan of people, temples and gods.

Batchelor Unaware

Of Other PW Plight

Tokyo, Jan. 23 (AP)—Cpl. Claude J. Batchelor, who changed his mind about staying with the Communists, celebrated with his Japanese wife tonight, apparently unaware that court martial charges had been filed against another bumpy POW who came home.

The Far East Command said it had no knowledge whether Batchelor faces charges similar to those filed in Washington yesterday against Cpl. Edward S. Dickinson of Cracker's Neck, Va.

Both were among 23 Americans who last summer refused to return home from Communist prison camps. They were the only two who changed their minds.

A Far East Command spokesman said any decision to court martial Batchelor probably would be made in Washington.

Dickinson is accused of dealing illegally with the Communists to get better treatment. He could be sentenced to death if convicted on one charge.

A army spokesman here said he did not know what bearing the Dickinson charges would have on Batchelor, but that no steps have been taken here to file court martial charges against him.

Market Is . . .
Months without stopping to consolidate its gains? Will a reaction—if it comes—be abrupt? Or will it be the selective kind that only slows progress?

That is your No. 1 question right now in Wall Street.

Rousing Rise
The market started the week with a mild show of irregularity. The next day there was a rousing rise based on the highly optimistic General Motors billion dollar expansion plan.

On Wednesday the advance slowed down, and it almost halted on Thursday when the President delivered his budget message. The budget had been forecast in its broad aspects well in advance, and contained no surprises for the stock market as a whole.

The week ended with the market higher and the aircraft and railroads going strong.

Not Active Issues
The five most active issues this week on the New York Stock Exchange were:

New York Central up 2 1/2% at 21 1/2 with 139,500 shares traded, Oliver Corp. up 1 1/2% at 11 1/2, North American Aviation up 2 1/2% at 23 1/2, Consolidated Vultee up 2 1/2% at 20 1/2, and General Motors up 1 1/2% at 64 1/2.

The five most active issues this week on the American Stock Exchange were:

Pantepco Oil up 5% at 5 1/2, Merril Petroleum up 15 1/2% at 7 1/2, Jupiter Oil up 1/2% at 2, U. S. Air Conditioning up 1/2% at 3 1/2, and Wilrich Petroleum unchanged at 4 1/2.

Big Membership should attract new members, including its legislative activities, program for young adults, community services, etc., all welded together by the grange ritual which has been mainly responsible for the growth and strength of the Order of Patrons of Husbandry for the past 85 years.

Vernon A. Barnhardt acted as master-of-ceremonies. Mrs. Charles Hasbrouck of Stone Ridge presented a vocal solo, accompanied by Mrs. John Basten at the piano.

The following granges were represented: Rosendale, Stone Ridge, Hurley, Plattkill, Huguenot, Patroon, Ulster, Asbury, Highland and Milton.

Say Fence Not Answer
Washington, Jan. 23 (AP)—"Please build this fence, Mr. President," a bereaved father wrote the White House, but sympathetic officials reported today that barred wire alone won't keep children from drowning in the Contra Costa Canal of California.

The letter, Warren Anderson of Martinez, Calif., wrote President Eisenhower after three-year-old Joe Anderson lost his life Nov. 16 in the canal brought from the President the reply that rarely had he "been so touched by any letters as by yours." The President ordered an investigation. Reclamation Commissioner W. A. Dextheimer's report to Secretary of the Interior McKay, who has jurisdiction over the canal, was made public today. The gist: "The problem is more properly one that requires the cooperation of each and every group in the area through which the canal winds."

Restitution Made, Court Charge Dropped

A charge of second degree grand larceny against Sam Zwirn, 31, of 29 Miller's Lane, was dismissed by Judge Raymond J. Mino in city court this morning on motion of defense counsel and with the consent of the district attorney.

Judge Mino said the complainant had received restitution and wished to withdraw charges.

Zwirn was arrested in early December on complaint of Mrs. Clara K. Morris of New Paltz who alleged that she took a lavaliere on a silver chain and one on a pendant from Zwirn on May 27, 1953, at his place of business, 277 Fair street, to remove certain diamonds and chips and place them in a ring setting. She alleged that Zwirn told her in late October the work could not be done and that he would return the jewels to her but that she had never received them.

Attorney Elmore Nathan appeared for the defendant and Attorney James Matthews for the district attorney.

Bixby Dedication

by Krom. The contract for construction was let in 1950 and work started the following year. The building was completed last year and the state department men moved in January 4 of this year.

The Department of Public Works employs 132 men in Ulster county, maintains 17 patrols and has 20 trucks and 30 pieces of equipment necessary to maintain 270 miles of state highway in the county. Of an ultimate total of 42 miles, 20 miles of Thruway have been completed and are maintained.

A buffet luncheon was served those attending the opening ceremonies. Music was provided by an orchestra composed of state highway employees with Bob Braze of the Kingston public works department.

Officials Introduced
Among the state public works department officials introduced by Mayor Stang as teamsters were Bixby: County assistant engineers: William Reed, safety engineer; George Tyrrell, head account clerk; Robert Dossy, motor equipment supervisor; Charles Terpening, assistant motor equipment supervisor, and Krick.

County assistant engineers in District No. 8 who were present were: Krom, Ulster county; Joseph Brady, southern Westchester; Jerry Shane, northern Westchester; Charles Vogt, west Orange county; Daniel Brown, east Orange; J. Ray, Dutchess; Dutchess county; Putnam; Carl Magsamen, Columbia, and Al Conway, Rockland.

Guests from other districts and counties were Herman J. Shaffer, Sullivan; J. F. Campbell, Greene; E. J. Broderick, Delaware, all county assistant engineers, and Charles O'Brien, Dutchess county highway superintendent.

Wicks Sends Greetings
Assemblyman Kenneth Wilson was a guest, and Senator Arthur H. Wicks sent his greetings through former Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman. Other county officials present included James F. Loughran, former county highway superintendent; Roland Green, acting highway superintendent; Harry Suttor, county clerk; Robert Phinney, chairman of the board of supervisors.

City Heads Present
City officials, in addition to Mayor Stang, included Alderman-at-Large Joseph Kelly, Police Chief Raymond Van Buren, Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, BPW Superintendent Ernest Stauding, Assistant Superintendent Max Oppenheimer, and former Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk.

Contractors for the building were John Arborio, George Brewster and Sons, and the Ottaviano Construction Company. Material supply companies were Calanan Stone Company, Cold-Mix Company, Sullivan Highway Products Corporation, and Valley Asphalt Company.

Pro-Red . . . was left behind to "ensure law and order."

Any movement of men or vehicles from the allied side to the neutral zone would be stopped, Thimayya said, and movements from the Communist side would be checked for their legality. The Indians have asked the Reds to supply the camp.

The Reds' refusal to take back the prisoners is based on the Red stand that the Indians should have kept them until their fate was decided by a Korean peace conference.

The UN command held that all prisoners had to be freed as civilians last midnight.

It liberated more than 14,000 anti-Red Chinese and more than 7,000 North Koreans returned to the by the Indians. The Chinese were en route to Formosa and the Koreans were deep in South Korea.

The Ulster county action is the first one to be placed on the calendar and is looked upon as a test case which may decide the outcome of all of the other pending actions.

Will Meet in Albany
The second of a series of four technical sessions sponsored by the Hudson Valley Chapter SAM will be held Thursday, Jan. 28, at 7:30 p. m. at the Wellington Hotel, Albany. The subject for discussion will be Production Control—Proper Inventory Size. A panel will present a short informative story preliminary to the general discussion. The public is invited.

Dickinson Faces

other prisoners of war held by the Reds.

Officials explained that the filing of these charges—based on accusations by former fellow prisoners—is only a preliminary action. It does not even necessarily mean he will be brought to trial.

An official announcement by the military district of Washington said no decision will be made on whether to try Dickinson until after an investigation of the charges and evidence has been finished and its results "fully reviewed for legal sufficiency." The army said this preliminary will be "at the earliest date possible."

Dickinson, whose home is in the remote mountain town of Cracker's Neck in southwestern Virginia, was one of 23 American soldiers who refused to return to United Nations lines when the Korean truce was signed last summer. He later asked neutral Indian guards to take him back.

Says Reds Held Him
The young Virginian told reporters at the time that the Chinese Reds "kept me back" with threats.

A second American—Cpl. Claude J. Batchelor—renounced the Communists on New Year's Day. He is in the Tokyo General Hospital.

The Far East command said last night that it has no knowledge of any similar action that may be taken against Batchelor. The soldier's mother, Mrs. O. L. Batchelor—said in Kermit, Tex., that she hopes her son will come home "and face whatever he has to face."

The fate of the 21 Americans who still refuse to come back to the U. S. forces remains in doubt. They are in a sit-down strike with 325 other pro-Reds in their camp. The Indians unlocked camp gates last night—deadline for the release of all prisoners.

The UN command virtually told the Communists today to take back the 21 Americans, 325 South Koreans and 1 Briton—but the Reds would not do so.

Must Keep Date

New York, Jan. 23 (AP)—For globe trotting Playboy Pietro Francesco Mele there will be no immediate Roman homecoming—at least until after March 2. He has a date then with a judge as a result of his battle with police last Nov. 10 when the officers hustled him out of the Park avenue apartment of cafe society beauty Brenda Frazier Kelly. Mele, while claiming he wasn't running away from anything, started out for Rome yesterday aboard the liner Constitution. However, the Manhattan district attorney's office heard about the trip and contacted the vessel as she headed for the open sea. Mele, 30, said his lawyer advised him he could leave the country and said he intended to be back in time for the court date. The Roman said he was returning to the Italian capital to take law examinations at the University of Rome.

Sinatra Escapes Injury

Beverly Hills, Calif., Jan. 23 (AP)—Singer Frank Sinatra escaped uninjured in a traffic accident that sent Mrs. Myrna McClees to a receiving hospital yesterday. Mrs. McClees, driving a small English car, sustained a severe concussion and bruises, doctors said. Sinatra, driving a Cadillac, said he stopped at an intersection, looked both ways, and saw no oncoming traffic. Officers quoted him as saying he backed into the car. Mrs. McClees' car, which suddenly loomed in front of him. The woman was taken home after being treated at the hospital.

Stamps Banned

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Jan. 23 (AP)—Yugoslavia outlawed today the entrance of all mail bearing stamps portraying Alojzije Kardelj, spiritual leader of the country's seven million Roman Catholics. The decree, printed in the official gazette, said the stamp carried also a map of Croatia, part of Yugoslavia, which Italy attempted to set up as a puppet state in World War 2. The official gazette said the stamp "tends toward propagating national and religious inequality, hatred and dissension."

Another Editor Arrested

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Jan. 23 (AP)—Federal police today arrested another newspaper editor charged with publishing an article showing disrespect for President Peron. It was the first such arrest since the government launched its new "pacification" policy and freed 624 political prisoners. Latest to be arrested is Abel Guillermo Estrada, 25, editor of Pregon, published at Coronel Suarez in Buenos Aires Province.

Molotov . . .

ance for the Big Four-Power talks on German unity and an Austrian independence treaty, the three western foreign ministers conferred for several hours in the French sector. They discussed plans for coordinating their views for their meeting with Molotov. It will be the first such session of the Big Four foreign ministers since they failed to agree on Austrian independence at a session in New York in October, 1949.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden was the first to arrive for the strategy talks at the French high commissioner's residence deep in the Tegel Forest area of northern Berlin, where French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault was host. Eight minutes later U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles drove up.

Devise Two Broad Plans

Diplomatic sources said the Western ministers have devised two broad plans for getting some positive results out of the Big Four talks. One plan would retain the key western stipulation that free all-German elections must precede a formation of a unified government. The Russians have opposed this view, insisting that Germany's government should be unified before elections. The second allied plan, of British origin, envisages a practicable way of life for East and West Germany if the unity talks fail.

The strategy meeting was the kind which apparently annoyed the Soviets in the past. One of their favorite accusations has been that the Western powers gang up to prevent any real Four-Power exchange.

Molotov apparently brought a large staff and is expected to stay at the Russian Embassy, which is just 200 yards inside the eastern sector of quartered Berlin. The second week's sessions of the conference will be held in this building. The foreign ministers will meet the first week in the former Allied Control Authority building in the American sector.

Sen Byrd . . .

fenses without insolvency," Byrd declared.

The defense budget proposed for the fiscal year beginning July 1 would be four billion dollars under the current year. The defense committee that far as he knew Mr. Democrats had been consulted on the big defense decisions. He questioned whether events might not expose the "massive retaliation" theory "as a big bluff."

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican floor leader, hastened to reply that the far as the possibility the United States might use an atom bomb on a city considered a legitimate target was to make a "very dangerous assumption." He said such an assumption might give comfort to Moscow and he added:

"I would not want the men in the Kremlin to miscalculate that such a strike might not be made."

Doubts Us of Weapons

Gore had expressed doubt that either of two great powers possessing weapons that could obliterate each other's cities would take the first step in so using them.

Byrd gave his views in an interview today, saying: "We must keep the lead in atomic and other weapons and with the foreign bases which are coming into being we can make this threat of retaliation so real that I don't believe the Communists will dare move toward war."

Secretary of Defense Wilson expressed similar opinions in a Pentagon news conference yesterday. He said also he thought the army, under the reduction planned for it, could still carry out its mission. He said the army should develop, he said, "it would seem to be a pretty sure bet it would not be on the continental United States."

And he argued that in such a case land forces could be built up quickly.

May Take Stand

Miami, Fla., Jan. 23 (AP)—Russell Tongay, husky father-teacher of the famed "aquatons," Kathy and Bubba Tongay, may take stand Monday in his own defense against charges that he caused Kathy's death by forcing her to dive from dangerous heights. Tongay's manslaughter trial was recessed yesterday until Monday. County Solicitor John Marsh had presented all but one of the state's witnesses. The 33-year-old Kathy Tongay died last May 5 after practicing dives from the top of the 33-foot tower at the MacFadden-Deauville Hotel pool in Miami Beach. Dr. Victor Calderin, who performed an autopsy, said death was caused by peritonitis brought on by a ruptured intestine.

Orders Secret Death

Seoul, Jan. 23 (AP)—South Korean President Syngman Rhee today personally called off a public execution and ordered an editor, Chung Kook Eun, convicted of spying for the Communists put to death in secret. Chung was well known to foreign correspondents now in Korea and officials said Rhee was concerned by the possible foreign reaction to a public execution. Government officials said the execution might take place Sunday in secret at Sasaek, about seven miles west of Seoul.

Says Mao Is Ill

London, Jan. 23 (AP)—A British publicist who claims to have sources behind the Iron Curtain said today that Red China's leader Mao Tse-tung has been ill since September. The Intelligence Digest and Weekly Review, edited by Kenneth De Courcy said Mao spent at least part of the last four months in a Peiping hospital. The newsletter wrote that Mao is under continual medical supervision, said a Chinese and a Russian doctor and that the Russian doctor is known to be a cancer expert.

Say Fence Not Answer

Washington, Jan. 23 (AP)—"Please build this fence, Mr. President," a bereaved father wrote the White House, but sympathetic officials reported today that barbed wire alone won't keep children from drowning in the Contra Costa Canal of California. The letter Warren Anderson of Martinez, Calif., wrote President Eisenhower after three-year-old Eugene Anderson lost his life Nov. 16 in the canal brought from the President the reply that rarely had he "been so touched by any letters as by yours." The President ordered an investigation. Reclamation Commissioner W. A. Dexheimer's report to Secretary

Restitution Made, Court Charge Dropped

A charge of second degree grand larceny against Sam Zwirn, 31, of 29 Miller's Lane, was dismissed by Judge Raymond J. Mino in city court this morning on motion of defense counsel and with the consent of the district attorney.

Judge Mino said the complainant had received restitution and wished to withdraw charges.

Zwirn was arrested in early December on complaint of Mrs. Clara K. Morris of New Paltz who alleged that she took a lavaliere on a silver chain and one on a pendant to Zwirn on May 27, 1953, at his place of business, 277 Fair street, to remove certain diamonds and chips and place them in a ring setting. She alleged that Zwirn told her in late October the work could not be done and that he would return the jewels to her but that she had never received them.

Attorney Elmore Nathan appeared for the defendant and Attorney James Matthews for the district attorney.

This year, two Ulster county teams will participate in the 4-H insect and disease identification and apple judging in competition with teams from other eastern counties. The Ulster county 4-H teams are those from Marlborough and Kingston.

County youngsters will also compete in pie baking contests in which "pie baking queens" will be selected in each of three categories: apple, cherry, and other fruit. Winners in the county elimination held last week were Enid Goethius of Hurley, apple pie; Nancy Ellsworth, Port Ewen, cherry pie, and Nancy Hutton, Hurley, other fruit.

Thursday afternoon, 4-H girls will demonstrate the making of apple dishes, and spider cider will be distributed to visitors. The demonstration will be held in the gun shed adjoining the large drill shed of the army.

shares publicly to enable the wholly owned subsidiary to explore and test the Ulster county leases.

At a meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel on November 6, officers of the Dome corporation explained that the results of the exploration justified the company's plan to develop natural gas and oil in commercial quantities. The corporation makes no claim that any proven or probable reserves have been developed on the leases. While there is no assurance that either gas or oil will be produced, it is felt that geological conditions favor natural gas, the company said.

'Teeter-Babe' Misplaced
A similarity of cars resulted in some unknown person finding a "teeter-babe" in a car parked on Hoffman street. Mrs. William Palen of Columbia street expected a friend to deliver the "teeter-babe" to her car. The article was placed in another car parked on Hoffman street yesterday which was similar to the Palen car. Mrs. Palen would appreciate a phone call at 7345 from the owner of the car and will call for the missing article, she reports.

Leonard son of Mrs. August Bub of Coxsackie, Sunday, Jan. 17 at 1 p. m. at the Fair Street Reformed Church, 209 Fair Street. The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony.

The wedding march and traditional wedding music was played by the organist, Mrs. William Eltinge. The selections, "God Left Only You, and Because were rendered by the soloist Miss Sylvia Kern. The church was decorated with white flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ensemble of cloud-blue lace over taffeta and carried a colonial bouquet of stephanotis and white orchids.

Miss Jane Davidson of Genesee, sister of the bride was maid of honor. She wore a suit of pastel pink faille and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and blue iris.

James Parkes of Kingston was best man. W. Clement Davidson, brother of the bride, and Ernest A. Wiebke were ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception for 50 guests was held in the Crystal room of the Governor Clinton Hotel. The couple left on a motor trip to New York and the southern states.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School and the State University Institute of Applied Arts and Science, Utica, and is now employed by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

The bridegroom attended schools in Coxsackie and New York and served four years with the United States Marine Corps.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Leonard will reside at 162 Pine street.

Missionary Society Holds Quilting Bee

Among the many projects of the Missionary Society for the winter months is the making of a quilt to be sent to a missionary in foreign service. Carrying on a tradition of many years in this work, the members supply their own materials, working together to complete the attractive quilt. At their next meeting, this piece will be packed with other society gifts, to be sent to the area where these goods are most needed. Shown at the Bearsville home of Mrs. Cary Hoffman are, left to right, Mrs. Harry Ostrander, Mrs. Edna Jessop, Willow, Mrs. Van Howland, Miss Helen Sickler, and Mrs. Herman Carl. Lake Hill, and Miss Emma Lane, Willow. Several other members, not included in the picture, also contributed their services to the project. (Freeman photo).

GROUP OF MOTHERS MEETING

A reader tells me: "I am one of a group of mothers (twelve in all) who meet once a month at each others houses. At these meetings we usually discuss problems concerning our children and various other topics, after which refreshments are served. Two weeks ago, one of the women in this group and I had an argument and she no longer speaks to me. This is my problem: When this group meets at her house, should I go with the rest of the women, or would it be better to stay away?"

It depends upon the seriousness of the argument. If it was just a fair up, it might be best to go. But if your presence is likely to lead to a scene, it would be very unpleasant not only for you, but for everyone concerned and you would be wiser not to risk it.

Prizes Belong To Winners

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to give a stork shower soon for a friend of mine. After the opening of the presents, I have planned on having the guests play cards for which I will give prizes. I have been told by several people that the prizes should be baby things, as these are turned over to the guest of honor. Will you please tell me if this is correct? I would like to know before buying the prizes.

Answer: I can't see that playing for prizes which they are then obliged to turn over to somebody else could possibly be pleasing to the winners, and if I were you, I would buy prizes pleasing to them and not baby things.

Office Detail

Dear Mrs. Post: When talking to a man in his office and there is a brief interruption by the entrance of his secretary or any other woman in the company, is a visiting man supposed to stand?

Answer: If he is introduced to her, yes. If she merely hands her employer some papers or speaks briefly to him, it is best not to add to the interruption.

On what occasions do gentlemen lift their hats, or remove them? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her leaflet E-15, "Manners in Public," answers the above and many other questions. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Barnum-Scheffel

Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Barnum of 186 Highland avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Helen, to Robert J. Scheffel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred G. Scheffel of 106 Prospect street, Newburgh.

The marriage will take place in February.

Concordia Choir Will Give Concert Of Sacred Music

The choir of Concordia Collegiate Institute of Bronxville, under the direction of Eugene Mott, will present a concert of sacred music at Immanuel Lutheran Church, Livingston street, Wednesday at 8 p. m.

The program will feature compositions by great religious composers. Students of Concordia College compose the choir, which consists of 35 mixed voices, especially selected from a larger chorus. It has had extensive experience in public performance and has acquired an outstanding reputation in the churches in which it has presented its program of sacred music. It has entertained music lovers in many cities of the Atlantic states, including New York, Baltimore, Washington and Boston.

Eugene Mott, the director of the choir since 1945, is a musician of unusual training and experience. As a singer Mr. Mott has appeared on national programs of the National Broadcasting Company. He has furnished musical arrangements for Victor album recordings of the works of Friml, Romberg and Victor Herbert. Mr. Mott has served as associate musical director of the St. Louis Municipal Opera and appears in choral work with the Queens Symphony Orchestra.

Concordia Collegiate Institute, founded in 1881, consists of two separate divisions, a preparatory school for boys and a co-educational junior college offering broad training in liberal arts and sciences. Its 34 acre campus in one of the beauty spots of Westchester county contains a physical plant and equipment representing an investment of well over $3,000,000. It numbers among its alumni outstanding leaders in the ministry and also other professional fields and in the business world. Concordia Institute is maintained and operated by the Lutheran Church, Missouri, Synod.

The chorus is on a tour and will be heard in several eastern cities. The group will remain overnight and will be housed in the homes of members of the local congregation. A free will offering will be received during the concert. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Investigation Asked

New York, Jan. 22 (AP)—U. S. Justice Department of Investigation whether Brazilian interests have conspired to hike the price of coffee has been asked by a spokesman for groups claiming to represent 750 New York city food stores. The request was made yesterday in a letter to Atty. Gen. Brownell from Herman B. Glaser, attorney for the Retail Food Merchants Assn., and the New York Retail Appetizers Assn.

Airlines Pay Raise

New York, Jan. 23 (AP)—American Airlines is giving pay boosts of from $3.47 to $34.67 a month to 5,500 employees. The airline, in announcement yesterday, said the boost went to agents, clerical workers, porters, telephone operators, engineers, draftsmen, chauffeurs and laboratory workers, all of whom are not represented by unions. Present wage scales were not disclosed.

Examinations

With mid-term examinations starting Monday, most of the student body will enjoy a week's vacation.

Subjects in which students take exams include Spanish II, solid and plane geometry, intermediate algebra, and advanced algebra, trigonometry, and business arithmetic.

For the science department there will be exams in health, biology, physics and chemistry. English exams include English III, world literature and public speaking. Other exams for the week include advanced art, mechanical drawing, business management and homemaking.

While the city-wide mid-term conference for teachers has been eliminated this year, all faculty members will report to the high school Thursday and Friday for departmental meetings and general faculty meeting.

The second term will begin Monday, Feb. 1.

Donald Terry, Robert Nash and Frieda Cohen were winners in the history quiz contest sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, at the high school in a special assembly Thursday. A consolation award was made to each of the other contestants. Awards were presented by Mrs. Christopher Roach of the Auxiliary who assured the school of her organization's interest in the youth of the community.

The 10 contestants seated in alphabetical order were presented with five rounds of questions formulated by Leo Doherty, moderator. Judges included Miss Martha Barnett, Miss Ethel Hull and Mrs. Helen Partlan of the faculty.

Contestants for the quiz were selected a week ago on the basis of marks received in a preliminary quiz on the United States Constitution. Besides the three winners those taking part included Mary Ellen Adams, Roger Billings, Thomas Conway, Joanne Lee, Dorothy Mairnes, Robert Nash and John White.

Robin Strongin, a member of the program committee of Student Council, opened the system of scoring which would be used by the judges. In closing the program Principal Theron Colver thanked the Auxiliary not only for the prizes offered in the quiz contest but also for the flag for the Field House given during the fall.

Science Club
Science Club, under the direction of Miss Ina Kinkade, is planning a trip to New York Thursday, Jan. 28. The group of approximately 60 students intends to visit the Museum of Natural History and the Hayden Planetarium. Chaperons for the trip are Mrs. Ida Sherman, Miss Mary Kelly, Donald Kames and Richard Mason.

The club is hard at work arranging for the trip.

Fabric Takes to Slim Line

By GAIL DUGAS, (NEA Woman's Editor)

New York — (NEA) — Fabric blends so well with silhouette in current resort cottons that the new woven tapestries seem made for the slim-lined coats and cotton satins shine brightly in clothes for after-five. Many of the resort fabrics are heavier than in past seasons. The reason for this is that textured cottons (decorated tapestries, damasks and lustrous satins) will shape more readily into slimmer, straighter lines. Diamond-patterned and wheat-toned piques are ideal materials for the unbelted princess dress. Because the full skirt is still seen for evening wear, fabric here can be either sheer and drifting or heavy and stiff. Gold-toned cotton satin appears, for instance, in a dome-shaped skirt that's worn with a needle-point pique top in sand white. White dominates the resort picture, but it's a white often sharpened by checks, stripes or figured embroideries in the pale beiges or deep browns. And color glows: ruby reds, cornflower blues and glittering aquas.

Today's hand would probably be misplayed and forgotten in the average game of rubber bridge. Nobody would even notice that anything had gone wrong.

West would win the first trick with the king of spades and continue with another high spade. South would ruff the second spade and get to dummy with a diamond to try a trump finesse, losing to West's king.

It wouldn't matter what West did now. He might lead another spade, hoping to shorten South's trumps past the danger point. South would ruff and would draw two more rounds of trumps. Declarer would still have one trump left in his hand to keep control. He would give up one diamond, but then the rest of dummy's suit would be established and would easily yield a discard for South's losing club. See anything wrong? If you don't look again and then read on.

When Robert Bullock, one of the outstanding players of Minneapolis, held the West cards he didn't make the mistake of leading a high spade at the second trick. He knew that South had only one spade, since otherwise East would have signalled his doubleton. He also knew that South must have a fine trump suit and that it was vital to attack the clubs before declarer could draw trumps and set up the diamonds.

So Bullock led the jack of clubs at the second trick. Declarer won in dummy and tried the trump finesse, losing to the king. Bullock promptly led the ten of clubs, renewing the attack. South had to win with the king of clubs, and the diamonds were still not established. There was no way to avoid the loss of one trick in each suit.

The hand didn't get lost because it was played in a tournament, the Winter Carnival. Those who failed to find the right play last year will be trying to find all the right plays next weekend in St. Paul, where the annual bridge carnival will take place.

Vote Bigger Tax Break

Washington, Jan. 23 (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee has voted for giving business a bigger tax break on financing new plant and equipment and individuals some tax relief on medical bills. The committee is deep in the job of rewriting most of the nation's complex tax laws, a project that has the strong backing of President Eisenhower. Its recommendations go to Congress for approval or rejection. Yesterday the committee voted in favor of a new provision giving business men and farmers the right to deduct much more of the cost of new plants, machinery and equipment during the first years of their use.

Democrats Hear Talks On Unity by Leaders

Elmira, Jan. 23 (AP)—An appeal for a united Democratic drive to end 12 years of Republican rule in New York state was made here last night by Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. (D-N. Y.) and Carmine DeSapio, New York county Democratic committee chairman.

Both men spoke before more than 300 persons at a Chemung county Democratic committee dinner.

Roosevelt promised to work "with every single Democrat" to achieve party unity.

"The great days of Jim Farley and FDR, when they worked together can be repeated," he said. DeSapio urged the formation of a state-wide league of political education.

He said the election of Mayor Robert Wagner in New York city proved that an "informed electorate is usually a Democratic electorate."

Roosevelt hit at what he called Gov. Dewey's "sudden interest in ethics" and declared: "I charge the moral tone of the state administration and the terrible fix it is in deserves repudiation because of the inefficiency and laxity of its leadership."

Seattle Oil Fire Sweeps Long Dock

Seattle, Jan. 23 (AP)—Fire swept the length of Standard Oil Co.'s 1,000-foot dock at the Pt. Wells "tank farm," 13 miles north of here early today. Damage was estimated at more than a million dollars.

The blaze was brought under control at 3 a. m. PST, after threatening a huge area of gas, oil and fuel oil tanks, one of the largest tank farms on the Pacific coast.

There were no injuries or deaths reported.

The fire started late last night after the oil-laden tanker, J. L. Hannah, smashed into the pier while attempting to dock.

Sparks ignited oil flowing from 10 ruptured fuel lines leading from storage tanks to the dock.

The fire, in turn, set off a number of explosions from 50-gallon drums of fuel oil piled on the pier. Great columns of flame roared 600 to 700 feet in the sky.

Asked if the damage would reach a million dollars, F. L. Kilbourn, manager of the Standard Oil facilities, replied: "Oh, a helluva lot more than that."

The Hannah, being nosed to its berth by a tugboat, was pulled safely away when the fire broke out. Eight men on the dock, ready to moor the Hannah, escaped without injury.

Phone Calls Irritate Buffalo Jack Frost

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 23 (AP)—Jack Frost doesn't mind the weather here but unwelcome telephone calls leave him cold.

Frost figures he has received about three or four a week during the 11 years he has had his phone. They go like this: "Is this Jack Frost?"

"Yes."

"Why don't you go down to Florida for the winter?"

Looks Like Rejection

Madrid, Spain, Jan. 23 (AP)—The Spanish press indicated today the Franco government will reject France's protests against Spanish policy in Morocco. The French, in a note yesterday, voiced "firm" displeasure over a statement by Lt. Gen. Rafael Garcia Valino, Madrid's high commissioner to Spanish Morocco. He had condoned a demand by Moorish chiefs of a split with French Morocco.

The Spanish cabinet took up the French protest at a meeting last night but did not disclose the outcome.

Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), the third Democrat who resigned from the subcommittee, said last night on a CBS radio program that "unless that rule (on the chairman's hiring and firing authority) is changed and possibly some other things, I for one would not go back on the committee."

Watching Finance Hazard
Meanwhile McCarthy kept an eye on a financial hazard approaching his subcommittee because of a parliamentary snarl. Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) yesterday blocked a unanimous consent proposal to send to the Rules Committee a resolution proposing to arm the subcommittee with $200,000 of spending authority, its power to spend, even to pay its staff, will expire Jan. 31 unless some way is found to get the resolution before the Rules Committee, a step necessary before the Senate can bring it to a vote. Gore told a reporter he objected yesterday only because he thought there should be "no hurry" in handling the measure.

On another issue, McCarthy's demand for the right to question members of an army security appeals board, the Investigations Subcommittee chairman said yesterday he had agreed to hold off for a couple of weeks.

McCarthy planned the questioning in connection with his search for evidence of alleged Communist spying at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

He said yesterday two board members told him they were in a tight spot because of his announcement he would subpoena them unless the Pentagon allowed them to be questioned. Military authorities said an unrevoked order by former President Truman forbids testimony by members of such boards before congressional investigating groups.

McCarthy said he agreed not to press his demand until Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens returns from a Far East trip.

Uncertainty in Judgment Is 17-Year-Old's Problem

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Elsie is just 17 and has become infatuated with a young man of 24. He has charm, but not much else, apparently. Two schools have expelled him; he can hold on to no work.

But when you point out these deficiencies to Elsie, she just flies into excited rage and threatens to marry him as soon as the law will allow.

Her mother is understandably distressed. "I am sick with fear for her," she writes. "She will listen to no criticism of him."

Then let's stop asking her to listen. And instead of fearing, let's begin to hope. For the key to Elsie's problem may be her excited defensiveness about her young man. It suggests that she's most uncertain about the judgment she has made of him.

This uncertainty in judgment accounts for many of the problems presented to us by 17-year-old people.

For at 17, the forces of growth compel them to exercise their own judgment. Torn between the need to exercise it and the uncertainty, they can become very excited by any challenge of their judgment. They may even threaten to marry someone they do not want to marry, to justify their judgment.

As we listen to their passionate defenses of the person they think they want to marry, we get fooled. We get caught in their delusion. We think that they are defending a human being when they are really defending the goodness of their judgment.

That's why criticism of the person gets us nowhere. All Elsie registers is panic and we regard her judgment as unreliable and untrustworthy. In frustration, she screams at us for burdening her with more uncertainty.

For our 17-year-old daughter does not know herself well enough to know how she needs our help. She cannot cry to us, "Oh, mother, I fear that I am wrong. I am growing up and want to be right some times. Please help me not to be scared and ashamed of being wrong."

She needs two things, our Elsie. First, as she lacks trust in her judgment, she needs to borrow our confidence in it temporarily.

Second, she needs time to gather some of her own. For though we've had time to collect overwhelming evidence against charm without character, she has not. When she does, she'll note it — and file her evidence for judgment on a Monday when she's stirred up with the struggle to justify charm without character, she may have no strength left to note the weaknesses.

Democrats Talking Cooperation Move

Washington, Jan. 23 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and the three Democratic senators who quit his Senate Investigations Subcommittee in a row last July are planning peace talks Monday.

McCarthy told reporters he is willing to make "concessions—to lean over backward" in efforts to induce them to call off the boycott against his subcommittee which has endured now for more than six months, making it an all-Republican group.

He said he would agree among other things to let them claim to absolute hiring and firing authority over the subcommittee staff—the issue which led to the Democrats' walkout.

Sens. McClellan (D-Ark.) and Symington (D-Mo.) withheld consent except to confirm that they have agreed to sit down Monday with McCarthy and his subcommittee to talk things over. They said they wanted to see in detail what McCarthy proposes before making any public statements about it.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), the third Democrat who resigned from the subcommittee, said last night on a CBS radio program that "unless that rule (on the chairman's hiring and firing authority) is changed and possibly some other things, I for one would not go back on the committee."

Soviets Reject Proposal

United Nations, Jan. 23 (AP)—The Soviet Union used its veto in the Security Council for the 57th time last night and killed a western proposal for settling the dispute between Israel and Syria over a Jordan river irrigation power project. The proposal was acceptable to Israel but bitterly opposed by the Arab states. Put in by the United States, Britain and France, it would have given the UN mediator in Palestine the power to act as he deemed appropriate to effect a reconciliation between Syria and Israel. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky declared this gave Maj. Gen. Vagn Bennike, the mediator, too much power.

Washington, Jan. 23 (AP)—For the second successive day, President Eisenhower is receiving no callers. White House aides said the President wants to work uninterrupted on a housing message he will send Congress Monday.

Churchill May Retire

Immingham, England, Jan. 23 (AP)—A Conservative member of Parliament says the current talk in the House of Commons is that Prime Minister Churchill will retire next May after Queen Elizabeth II returns from her royal tour. Cyril Osborne told a political meeting here last night that Churchill's retirement date "has been much discussed in Westminster (parliamentary circles) this week. Nobody knows, but many think it will be when the Queen comes home." There has been no indication from Churchill, 79, that he is ready to announce when he will retire.

Will Be Candidates

Eugene Glusker, former Ellenville trustee, and Harry Thayer editor of the Ellenville Press who was an unsuccessful candidate last spring, will be recommended as candidates for trustee at the Democratic caucus next month. This announcement was made following a meeting of Democratic party members held at Hunt Memorial Hall this week.

McCarthy said he agreed not to press his demand until Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens returns from a Far East trip.

He said yesterday two board members told him they were in a tight spot because of his announcement he would subpoena them unless the Pentagon allowed them to be questioned. Examinations

With mid-term examinations starting Monday, most of the student body will enjoy a week's vacation.

Subjects in which students take exams include Spanish II, solid and plane geometry, intermediate algebra, and advanced algebra, trigonometry, and business arithmetic.

For the science department there will be exams in health, biology, physics and chemistry. English exams include English III, world literature and public speaking. Other exams for the week include advanced art, mechanical drawing, business management and homemaking.

While the city-wide mid-term conference for teachers has been eliminated this year, all faculty members will report to the high school Thursday and Friday for departmental meetings and general faculty meeting.

The second term will begin Monday, Feb. 1.

Donald Terry, Robert Nash and Frieda Cohen were winners in the history quiz contest sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, at the high school in a special assembly Thursday. A consolation award was made to each of the other seven contestants. Awards were presented by Mrs. Christopher Roach of the Auxiliary who assured the school of her organization's interest in the youth of the community.

The 10 contestants seated in alphabetical order were presented with five rounds of questions formulated by Leo Doherty, moderator. Judges included Miss Martha Barnett, Miss Ethel Hull and Mrs. Helen Partlan of the faculty. Contestants for the quiz were selected a week ago on the basis of marks received in a preliminary quiz on the United States Constitution. Besides the three winners those taking part included Mary Ellen Adams, Roger Billings, Thomas Conway, Joanne Lee, Dorothy Maines, Robert Nash and John White.

Robin Strongin, a member of the program committee of Student Council, opened the Assembly by explaining the system of scoring which would be used by the judges. In closing the program Principal Theron Culver thanked the Auxiliary not only for the prizes offered in the quiz contest but also for the flag for the Field House given during the fall.

Science Club

Science Club, under the direction of Miss Jane Kirkadee is planning a trip to New York Thursday, Jan. 28. The group of approximately 60 students intends to visit the Museum of Natural History and the Hayden Planetarium. Chaperones for the trip are Mrs. Ida Sherman, Miss Mary Kelly, Donald Kaines and Richard Mason.

The club is hard at work arrange for a Science Fair, the tentative date for this event being April 2. Any student in high school is invited to enter a project for this occasion. Winners' projects will be sent to the Sectional Congress at Ladycliffe Academy May 1. Local prizes also will be given in the contest.

The club has invited Dr. Paul Saunders to speak before the group April 2. He will give a lecture demonstration on Liquid Oxygen. Visitors are welcome.

Wrestlers Organize

A group of high school boys have organized a wrestling team with William Hurley as instructor and coach. The club meets Tuesdays and Fridays after school for instructions in the various techniques of the sport.

Later, after members have had an opportunity to practice different holds, Coach Hurley hopes to arrange matches in the different weight classes.

Nurses Hear Speakers

Miss Lona Bartlett, superintendent of St. Margaret House and Hospital for Babies at Albany, was guest speaker at the Jan. 14 meeting of Future Nurses of America.

Miss Bartlett told how the hospital is a boarding home for children under the age of two. These children are in need of special diets and attention but are not critically ill. The training of the nurses is a course of one year and then they are placed in a hospital as an aid or in a home or nursery.

The Future Teachers of America joined the Future Nurses of America as guests for the afternoon.

Vest Hop

The Vest Hop which was held Saturday night, Jan. 17, from 9 to 1 was sponsored by the Senior Leaders' Club. It was a gala affair with over 100 couples attending. Sandy Galate and John Thompson were voted cutest couple and Carol Martin received a prize for the most original vest. The group danced to the music of Ole Christian's band. Refreshments were served at this time.

Maroon Masquers

A meeting of Maroon Masquers was held Monday. Elaine Mac-holt presided as president during this meeting. Other officers elected to the office at this time were Cameron Rylance, vice-president; Mildred Brown, secretary and Liz Nussbaum, treasurer.

Saturday, March 27, was set as the tentative date for the annual trip to New York.

January Graduates

Since the elimination of mid-term promotions, few students graduate from high school in January. This year three boys will earn credits for a diploma upon the completion of next week's examinations. The three January "grads" are Gerald Avery, Kent Hastings and Denis Kilmer.

$50,000 Bronx Fire

New York, Jan. 23 (AP)—Eleven stores were damaged and many persons driven from their homes early today in a five-alarm fire in the Bronx. More than 150 firemen and 35 pieces of equipment were used to battle the fire at Jerome avenue and Elliot Place. The firemen, one of whom was injured, fought the blaze under adverse conditions including 20 degree temperatures that made a sheet of ice on the sidewalks and a stiff north wind that whipped up smoke forcing the use of masks. Chief Fire Marshal Martin Scott estimated damage at about $50,000.

By GAIL DUGAS,
(NEA Woman's Editor)

New York — (NEA) — Fabric blends so well with silhouette in current resort cottons that the new woven tapestries seem made for the slim-lined coats and the cotton satins shine brightly in clothes for after-five. Many of the resort fabrics are heavier than in past seasons. The reason for this is that textured cottons (decorated tapestries, damasks and lustrous satins) will shape more readily into slimmer, straighter lines. Diamond-patterned and wheat-toned piques are ideal materials for the unbelted princess dress. Because the full skirt is still seen for evening wear, fabric here can be either sheer and drifting or heavy and stiff. Gold-toned cotton satin appears, for instance, in a dome-shaped skirt that's worn with a needle-point pique top in sand white. White dominates the resort picture, but it's a white often sharpened by checks, stripes or figured embroideries in the pale beiges or deep browns. And color glows: ruby reds, cornflower blues and glittering aquas.

Today's hand would probably be misplayed and forgotten in the average game of rubber bridge. Nobody would even notice that anything had gone wrong.

West would win the first trick with the king of spades and continue with another high spade. South would ruff the second spade and get to dummy with a diamond to try a trump finesse, losing to West's king.

It wouldn't matter what West did now. He might lead another spade, hoping to shorten South's trumps past the danger point. South would ruff and would draw two more rounds of trumps.

Declarer would still have one trump left in his hand to keep control. He would give up one diamond, but then the rest of dummy's suit would be established and would easily yield a discard for South's losing club.

See anything wrong? If you don't look again and then read on. When Robert Bullock, one of the outstanding players of Minneapolis, held the West cards he didn't make the mistake of leading a high spade at the second trick. He knew that South had only one spade, since otherwise East would have signalled his doubtless. He also knew that South must have a fine trump suit and that it was vital to attack the clubs before declarer could draw trumps and set up the diamonds.

So Bullock led the jack of clubs at the second trick. Declarer won in dummy and tried the trump finesse, losing to the king. Bullock promptly led the ten of clubs, renewing the attack. South had to win with the king of clubs, and the diamonds were still not established. There was no way to avoid the loss of one trick in each suit.

The hand didn't get lost because it was played in a tournament, the Winter Carnival. Those who failed to find the right play last year will be trying to find all the right plays next weekend in St. Paul, where the annual bridge carnival will take place.

Vote Bigger Tax Break

Washington, Jan. 23 (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee has voted for giving business a bigger tax break on financing new plant and equipment and individuals some tax relief on medical bills. The committee is deep in the job of rewriting most of the nation's complex tax laws, a project that has the strong backing of President Eisenhower. Its recommendations go to Congress for approval or rejection. Yesterday the committee voted in favor of a new provision giving business men and farmers the right to deduct much more of the cost of new plants, machinery and equipment during the first years of their use.

For at 17, the forces of growth compel them to exercise their own judgment. Torn between the need to exercise it and the uncertainty, they can become very excited by any challenge of their judgment. They may even threaten to marry someone they do not want to marry, to justify their judgment.

As we listen to their passionate defenses of the person they think they want to marry, we get fooled. We get caught in their delusion. We think that they are defending a human being when they are really defending the goodness of their judgment.

That's why criticism of the person gets us nowhere. All Elsie registers is panic and we regard her judgment as unreliable and untrustworthy. In frustration, she screams at us for burdening her with more uncertainty.

For our 17-year-old daughter does not know herself well enough to know how she needs our help. She cannot cry to us, "Oh, mother, I fear that I am wrong. I am growing up and want to be right some time. Please help me not to be scared and ashamed of being wrong."

She needs two things, our Elsie.

First, as she lacks trust in her judgment, she needs to borrow our confidence in it temporarily.

Second, she needs time to gather some of her own. For though we've had time to collect overwhelming evidence against charm without character, she has not. When she does, she'll note it—and file her evidence for judgment as certain as our own.

But if we keep her all stirred up with the struggle to justify charm without character, she may have no strength left to note the weaknesses.

Democrats Talking Cooperation Move

Washington, Jan. 23 (AP)—Sen.

McCarthy (R-Wis.) and the three Democratic senators who quit his Senate Investigations Subcommittee in a row last July are planning peace talks Monday.

McCarthy told reporters he is willing to make "concessions—to lean over backward" in efforts to induce them to call off the boycott against his subcommittee which has endured now for more than six months, making it an all-Republican group.

He said he would agree among other things to give up his claim to absolute hiring and firing authority to talk things over. They said the issue which led to the Democrats' walkout.

Sens. McClellan (D-Ark.) and Symington (D-Mo.) withheld comment except to confirm that they have agreed to sit down Monday with McCarthy and his subcommittee staff. The issue which led to the Democrats' walkout.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), the third Democrat who resigned from the subcommittee said last night on a CBS radio program that "unless that rule (on the chairman's hiring and firing authority) is changed and possibly some other things, I for one would not go back on the committee."

Watching Finance Hazard

Meanwhile McCarthy kept an eye on a financial hazard approaching his subcommittee because of a documentary snarl. Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) yesterday blocked a unanimous consent proposal to send to the Rules Committee a resolution proposing to arm the subcommittee with $200,000 of spending authority. Its power to spend, even to pay its staff, will expire Jan. 31 unless some way is found to get the resolution before the Rules Committee—a step necessary before the Senate can bring it to a vote. Gore told a reporter he objected yesterday only because he thought there should be "no hurry" in handling the measure.

On another issue, McCarthy's demand for the right to question members of an army security appeals board, the Investigations Subcommittee chairman said yesterday he had agreed to hold off for a couple of weeks.

McCarthy planned the questioning in connection with his search for evidence of alleged Communist spying at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

He said yesterday two board members told him they were in a tight spot because of his announcement he would subpoena them unless the Pentagon allowed them to be questioned. Military authorities said an unrevoked order by former President Truman forbids testimony by members of such boards before congressional investigating groups.

McCarthy said he agreed not to press his demand until Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens returns from a Far East trip.

Soviets Reject Proposal

United Nations, Jan. 23 (AP)—The Soviet Union used its veto in the Security Council for the 57th time last night and killed a western proposal for settling the dispute between Israel and Syria over a Jordan river irrigation-power project. The proposal was acceptable to Israel but bitterly opposed by the Arab states. Put in by the United States, Britain and France, it would have given the UN mediator in Palestine the power to act as he deemed appropriate to effect a reconciliation between Syria and Israel. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky declared this gave Maj. Gen. Vagn Bannike, the mediator, too much power.

Sticks to Message

Washington, Jan. 23 (AP)—For the second successive day, President Eisenhower is receiving no callers. White House aides said the President wants to work uninterrupted on a housing message he will send Congress Monday.

Churchill May Retire

Immingham, England, Jan. 23 (AP)—A Conservative member of Parliament says the current talk in the House of Commons is that Prime Minister Churchill will retire next May after Queen Elizabeth II's coronation from her royal tour, Cyril Osborne told a political meeting here last night that Churchill's retirement date "has been much discussed in Westminster (parliamentary circles) this week. Nobody knows, but many think it will be when the Queen comes home." There has been no indication from Churchill, 79, that he is ready to announce when he will retire.

Will Be Candidates

Eugene Glusker, former Ellenville trustee, and Harry Thayer editor of The Ellenville Press who was an unsuccessful candidate last spring, will be recommended as candidates for trustee at the Democratic caucus next month. This announcement was made following a meeting of Democratic party members held at Hunt Memorial Hall this week.

High School Routs Catskill in Non-Conference Game, 72-34

Bezemer Leads With 20 Points In Eighth Win

Bondar Scores Six In Debut at Gnar

Basketball fans at the Catskill High School gym found out last night what happens when a sub-par Class B basketball team meets a good Class A school.

They saw their favorites routed by undefeated Kingston High, 72-34. It was the eighth straight for Coach G. Warren Kias' refurbished troupe.

Unlike the past two years, when the Maroons had to struggle bitterly for an even break in four games, last night's contest was a cakewalk.

Sparked by Dick Bezemer, who controlled both boards and racked up 20 points, the Kiasmen led from the first tap and were ahead by the lopsided margin of 23-4 at the quarter. At one time the score was 19-1.

29 RBs For Bezemer

Bezemer continued his sparkling play and accounted for a record breaking total of 29 rebounds. Skip Broadhead, used sparingly, hit with 13 points and John Godwin regained his scoring touch with 14 markers.

Coach Kias had a chance to clear his bench in the second half and all 15 players of the "varsity" squad saw action.

Bob Bondar, the newest addition to the team, started the game and scored six points. He made his presence felt in the rebound department and with Godwin starting at forward the Kiasmen had one of their "biggest" teams of the season going.

Coach Kias met the Catskill zone defense with a zone array of his own and limited the losers to only two baskets in the first half.

Two of Catskill's best players were reported missing due to ineligibility but will be available for the return game in Kingston on Feb. 26.

The boys come back to reality next Wednesday against Monticello at the field house in the second half opener.

Martinez Shines Against Casillo

New York, Jan. 23 (AP)—Once again Vince Martinez looks like the bright young prospect of a year ago—all because he "showed a little more tiger."

Martinez grinned last night as he talked about his new found "tiger" spirit after he stopped Rocky Casillo of Blue Island, Ill., at the end of three rounds at Madison Square Garden.

Referee, Arthur D'Amico and Dr. Vince Nardiello of the New York State Athletic Commission teamed up to stop it after Casillo had been on the deck four times. They decided Rocky was in no shape to come out for a fourth round, so it went into the books as a third round TKO.

The next big step in the career of the 24-year-old Paterson, N. J., welter is a Garden date with Billy Graham. Although matchmaker Billy Brown would like to make the match for Feb. 19 he'll probably have to settle for March 5 or later.

The percentages appear to have caught up with Tom Shultis, the infallible Bears' weather prophet.

In his annual pre-winter forecast for The Freeman, Prophet Shultis predicted another "open" winter with a dearth of snow. But something has happened to upset Tom's prophecy.

Snow has been plentiful and the first time in several years the skiers have had fun in January. Quickly changing weather charts seriously threaten perfect conditions for this weekend, but on the whole 1954 has been a welcome relief from its predecessors.

But Shultis warns the cognoscenti that the long range weather pattern will justify his predictions. He figures there will be little, if any, unusual cold weather after January.

Marianne Davis, our society ed., forwards this interesting ten-minute summary of the county scene amid last weekend's rash of chills:

"The well-dressed skier in addition to his regular ski-gear, wore forehead-chin covering woolen helmets to protect himself against the Arctic blasts against the mountain. . . Many of the skiers didn't seem to realize their faces were many shades of red-to-white with frostbite but kept riding the tow. . . Belleaire Lodge was jammed as a subway rush hour—couldn't get near the counter. Loudspeakers kept warning skiers to get inside, get something to eat. . . warm up. . . Consequent jam-up in the refreshment house.

"High time new lodge is finished to accommodate mobs. . . Traffic handled very well in the parking lot, but bridge approach is too narrow, especially with snow on one side of the bridge not cleared away. . . International note.

Speaking of January thaws, there is one, isn't there? Belleaire Center getting improved treatment in the metropolitan valley which has leaned heavily toward New Hampshire and Vermont in other years. Bear Mountain Park offers another doubleheader ski jump, tonight under the lights and Sunday afternoon. Merril Schmitt heads the Class C. A card. The annual battle between the New York and New Jersey Ski Councils takes place at Belleaire today. Club members make up the teams of 25 men and 10 girls. This competition is practically at the end stage now. Jerry, called Banana Belt skiers by NYSC, won in an upset two years ago but lost last season. WOR has nightly ski reports on radio at 11:15. Metropolitan ski writers remind readers that when Belleaire is crowded there's Highmount just around the corner. It's a tops, rope-tow area and plenty interesting, even for experts.

Doris Parslow reports that the Simpson Memorial slope at Phoenicia was "just nicely filled" last weekend.

SCHUSS NOTES: Hardest-hit ski area this winter has been the famous Franconia in New Hampshire. The state spent $250,000 there in improvements but seasonal business is off 90 percent against 1953 due to poor snow depths. Upon commendation by the American Council of Medical Research, the American Red Cross has announced a change in the previously approved first aid treatment for frostbite. A new supplement to the current first aid textbook outlines a method of immediate submersion of frost-bitten limbs in warm water. The Poughkeepsie High overcame a 39-30 deficit at the half to whip Newburgh Academy, 72-63, last night on the NFA boards.

Now Kingston High is sure what team it has to beat for the DUSO championship.

The loss virtually eliminated the Goldbacks who have dropped two in a row—to Kingston and the Blues. And it makes the DUSO race pretty much a showdown between KHS and PHS.

A third period collapse when they scored only four points cooked the Newburgh goose. Mickey Burkoski, NFA's All-DUSO center, led both teams with 28 points but Harold Kaplan, a whiz against Kingston Tuesday, quickly picked up three fouls and was almost helpless. He scored only three points. Jeff Conine, a new starter, rimmed 15 for the Masters.

Monty Stickles, Blue center, hooped 22 points and Gary Mendez had 20. Don Dahowski got 15.

In the DUSO contests, Middletown won over Port Jervis 61-41 as Bill Williams hit 20 points. Ellenville scored a surprise 43-41 squeaker over Fallsburg for its first win of the campaign. Monticello had to battle overtime periods to whip neighboring Liberty High, 48-46.

Yogi Gets $5,000 Hike in Salary

New York, Jan. 23 (AP)—Having bagged Yogi Berra, their leading slugger, the New York Yankees today sought to bring some of their other stars into the fold for 1954.

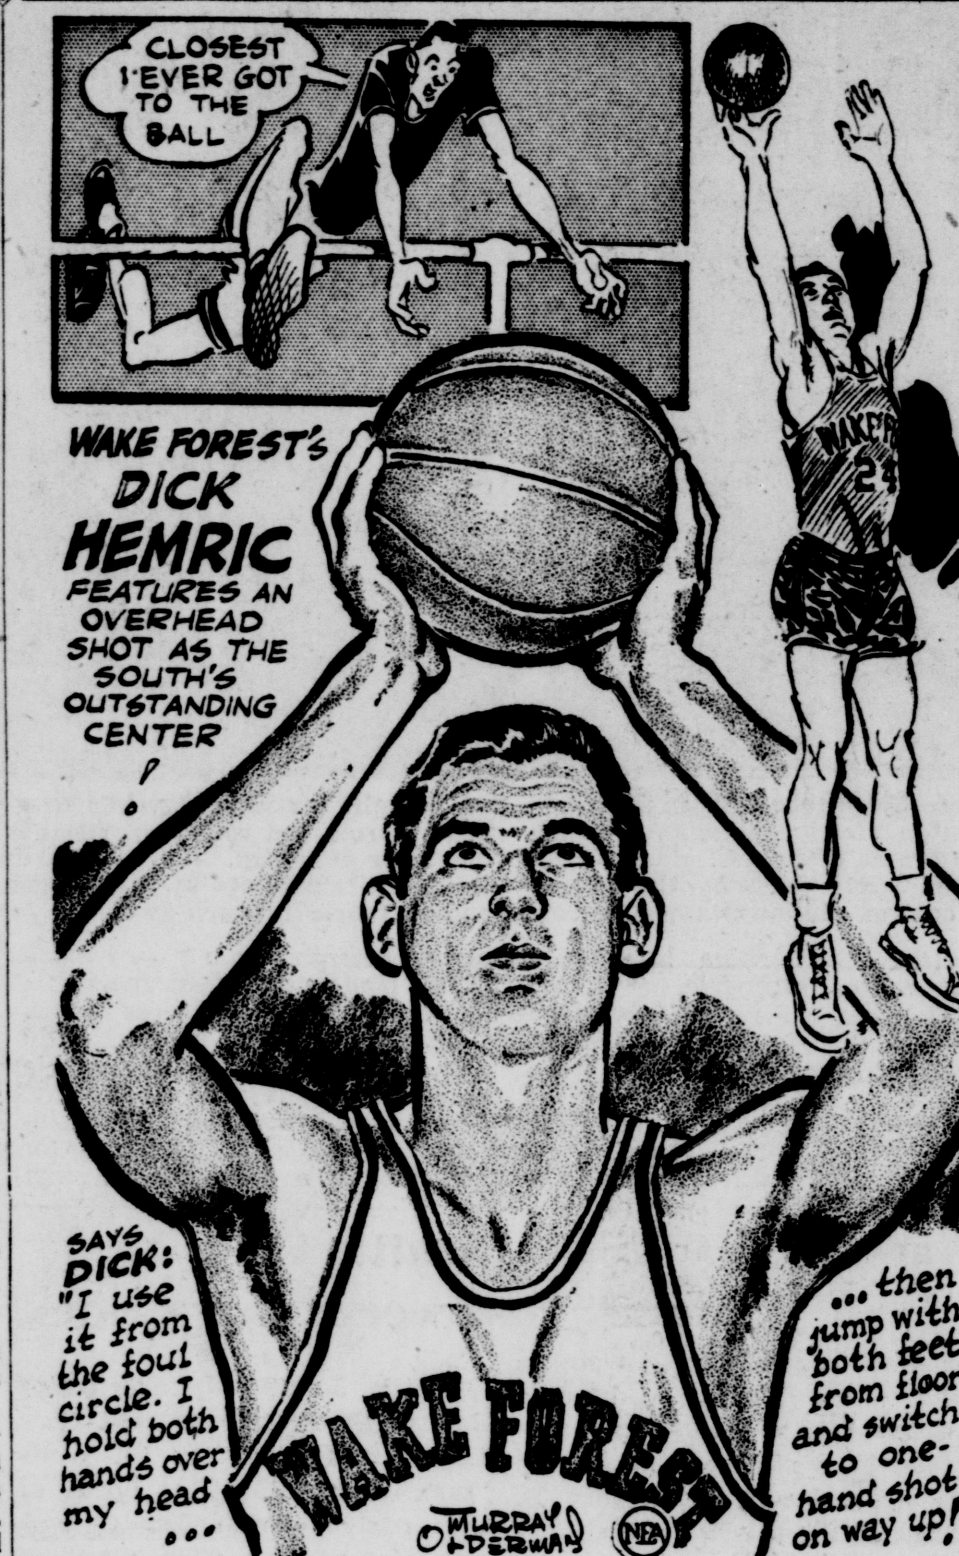

Berra, who batted .296 and clubbed 27 home runs last year, came to terms yesterday after a brief conference with assistant general manager Roy Hamey. The hard-hitting catcher reportedly will receive $42,000—a $5,000 boost—for trying to help the Bombers to their sixth straight world championship.

Now Hamey and general manager George Weiss are expected to use their collective talents in attempts to sign Mickey Mantle, Gil McDougald and Whitey Ford. All three have expressed dissatisfaction with the contracts they've been offered.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, the Yankees' World Series opponents two years running, signed Joe Black, their great relief pitcher of 1952. Much to Black's relief he will receive the same salary—around $12,000—as he did last season.

former accepted procedure called for initial application of cool water with a gradual increase in temperature for each subsequent treatment over a prolonged period. The ARC now advocates the first bathing of the afflicted limb specifically be done with lukewarm water. It has been discovered that such treatment provides for better recovery than can be obtained by the more gradual heat application practiced before.

Caroline Draper of Belleaire is one of 13 persons taking school course for Junior girls which ends at Franconia, N. H. Sunday. The U. S. Eastern Amateur Ski Association selected the 13 girls on the basis of racing ability shown in their local regions. They range from 14 to 17 years of age. The training program was used as a guide to the USEASA in selecting girls for competition in the National Junior championships at Reno, Nevada, in March. Paul Valar, former Swiss Olympic skier and his wife, Paula, coached the girls in special slalom and racing technique. Miss Draper thus becomes a valuable addition to the popular Belleaire staff of Arthur G. Draper and Dot Hoyt.

Hemric, Who Outplays Them All, Rates As Best College Center in the Nation

BY JIMMY BRESLIN
(NEA Sports Staff)

Murray Greason and Bones McKinney, who coach Wake Forest, were swapping "basketball lies" with a small group sitting with them.

"Do you have any stories," Greason was asked, "which show how much Dick Hemric means to your team?"

"Watch him play," he answered. "Hemric is a 20-year-old out of Jonesville, N. C. Once the game started at Madison Square Garden, you didn't have to search far for yarns about Hemric's work. The bulky 6-6, 220-pound pivot wobbled around on a band ankle for less than half the game and then sat out the rest of it as underdog Seton Hall ran away with an 89-78 victory.

which approach the nest, by hitting them on the head.

Long, pointed wings, he said, distinguished the third group of hawks, and they are equipped with saw-toothed beaks. These birds kill with their beaks instead of their feet. These are the duck hawk, pigeon hawk and sparrow hawk. Sparrow hawks may be observed sitting on telephone wires, and they nest in flicker holes and are characterized by large grey eyes.

The last group described contained the marsh hawk, recognized by a white patch at the base of the back and are more owl-like in their markings about the face than any of the others.

Shows Hawks in Flight
Dr. Meng also showed slides of hawks in flight, among them the turkey vulture, which has a red-tinted head and a wing spread of six feet. This bird feeds on carrion.

Dr. Meng described the method and procedure of tagging hawks. He said that if he tagged three Cooper hawks, for instance, and set them free, he would report the numbers immediately to the Wild Life Institute in Washington. If a bird in another locality found where the hawks, he could immediately locate the part of the country from which they came by writing to the same source.

Dr. Meng went on to describe the various nests of the groups of hawks, the number of eggs characteristic to each group and how they fed their young. The Cooper hawk, he noted, takes 36 days to hatch its young, and unlike owls, they are born with their eyes open. The red-tail hawk has the habit of lining its nest with cedar bark, while the goshawk lines its nest with bark flakes.

"It is phenomenal," he asserted, "the number of mice that a pair of adult hawks can bring to the nests of their young." To understand the importance of keeping our hawks unmolested, he said that one mouse during the course of a year will have seven teen litters. If all of these mice are also multiplied, one pair of mice would be responsible for about a million mice a year, and the hawk plays a large role in keeping the rodents under control. Where each mouse might only eat two cents worth of grain a year, but this multiplied by a million becomes a large figure. Further

Lost Without Him

Without Hemric, who bore the stamp of an authentic All-American even with the bad ankle, the Deacons were lost. With their big center in the game, I didn't take much imagination to see the value a sound Hemric would have to any team.

A gorilla-sized center, he must be rated with the best big men in the nation. He averaged 25.1 points a game last year as a sophomore and has kept near that mark so far this season, with his hook and jump shot making the scoreboard blink at a near-phenomenal 50 per cent average. In the important rebounding department, Hemric has been averaging better than 12 a game.

He has been clicking against high powered opposition, too. So far this season, Ronnie Shavlik, North Carolina State's large cen-

Knicks Still Beat Warriors

(By The Associated Press)

Wherever they play their National Basketball Association games, the Philadelphia Warriors just can't seem to beat the New York Knickerbockers.

Last night at New Haven, the Knicks edged the plucky Warriors 84-82 as Carl Braun sank a jump shot with one second left to play. The victory was the Knickerbockers' 15th in 16 starts against Philadelphia. They've whipped them 5-1 this season and in all 10 meetings last year.

Braun's climactic score was his only field goal of the game. Harry Gallatin paced the winners with 16 points, but Neil Johnston, the league's leading scorer, took scoring honors with 32.

New York now leads the Eastern Division by three and a half games over second-place Syracuse.

Banquet Committee Urges Reservations For Gun Club Dinner

The banquet committee for the annual Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club dinner, Monday, Jan. 25 at the Alpine, today urged all persons to make reservations.

The dinner is open to members and the public but all plates must be accounted for by reservations.

Officers for 1954 will be formally introduced at the banquet which will be followed by entertainment and dancing. Guests will be Mayor Fred Stang and Charles J. Tiano, Freeman sports editor.

Harold Felton of Lake Katrine, chairman; Frank Ackley and Gordon Hofstetter make up the banquet committee.

Babe Is Back

Tampa, Fla., Jan. 23 (AP)—Babe Zaharias is back in the Ladies' Professional Golf Assn. after a 36-hour walkout, and everybody seems to be happy. "The whole thing is made up," she said last night. "I think all the girls are happy."

Among the guests were former mayor Oscar V. Newkirk of Kingston, an ex-president of the club; Howard Mosher, past president, New Paltz; Joseph Fitzsimmons, Town of Woodstock supervisor; Bob Owen, Poughkeepsie, game manager; lower Hudson valley district; game protectors James Overbaugh of Lake Katrine and Rodger Fredenburg of Kingston; and Aaron Van de Bogart, Jr., president of the Wittenberg Club.

The February meeting of the Federation will be held at Wawarsing.

Doyle's Wreckers Rout Woodstock Vs., 85-76

Jack Doyle's Wreckers, an all-star YMCA aggregation, demolished the Woodstock Varsity, 85-76, last night on the village school boards.

In handing Coach Walter Van Wagenen's cagers their third loss in 11 starts, the Wreckers overcame a 42-33 halftime deficit with a 52-point explosion in the second half.

Veteran Rod Sagendorf's terrific outside shooting was the principal factor in the Doyle victory. The former KHS great scored 16 of his 23 points in the second half, 12 in the final period.

Two Aces Foul Out
Woodstock suffered a heavy blow when two of its biggest operators—Big Bill Klein and Sal Misasi—fouled out in the fourth quarter.

The Varsity suffered another of its inexplicable third period let-downs and the Wreckers gained a 29-16 edge to take charge of the game.

Ten players hit in double figures. Behind Sagendorf's 23, the Wreckers were aided by Jack Doyle's 13, Lou Murkoff's 12, "Champ" Holstein's 11 and George McElroy's 14.

Misaki paced Woodstock with 17 and "Boo" Schaffer scored 15. Jim Riehl 13, Bill Klein 12 and Ward Dunham 10.

High School Routs Catskill in Non-Conference Game, 72-34

Bezemer Leads With 20 Points In Eighth Win

Bondar Scores Six In Debut at Guard

Basketball fans at the Catskill High School gym found out last night what happens when a sub-par Class B basketball team meets a good Class A school.

They saw their favorites routed by undefeated Kingston High, 72-34. It was the eighth straight for Coach G. Warren Kias' refurbished troupe.

Unlike the past two years, when the Maroons had to struggle bitterly for an even break in four games, last night's contest was a cakewalk.

Sparked by Dick Bezemer, who controlled both boards and racked up 20 points, the Klasmen led from the first tap and were ahead by the lopsided margin of 23-4 at the quarter. At one time the score was 19-1.

29 RBs For Bezemer

Bezemer continued his sparkling play and accounted for a record breaking total of 29 rebounds. Skip Broadhead, used sparingly, hit with 13 points and John Godwin regained his scoring touch with 14 markers.

Coach Kias had a chance to clear his bench in the second half and all 15 players of the "varsity" squad saw action.

Bob Bondar, the newest addition to the team, started the game and scored six points. He made his presence felt in the rebound department and with Godwin starting at forward the Klasmen had one of their "biggest" teams of the season going.

Coach Kias met the Catskill team defense with a zone array of his own and limited the losers to only two baskets in the first half. Two of Catskill's best players were reported missing due to ineligibility but will be available for the return game in Kingston on Feb. 26.

The boys come back to reality next Wednesday against Monticello at the field house in the second half opener.

Martinez Shines Against Casillo

New York, Jan. 23 (AP)—Once again Vince Martinez looks like the bright young prospect of a year ago—all because he "showed a little more tiger."

Martinez gained last night as he talked about his new found "tiger" spirit after he stopped Rocky Casillo of Blue Island, Ill., at the end of three rounds at Madison Square Garden.

Referee Ruby Golstein and Dr. Vince Nardiello of the New York State Athletic Commission teamed up to stop it after Casillo had been on the deck four times. They decided Rocky was in no shape to come out for a fourth round, so it went into the books as a third round TKO.

The next big step in the career of the 24-year-old Paterson, N. J., welter is a Garden date with Billy Graham. Although matchmaker Billy Brown would like to make the match for Feb. 19 he'll probably have to settle for March 3 or later.

The percentages appear to have caught up with Tom Shultis, the infallible Bearsville weather prophet.

In his annual pre-winter forecast for The Freeman, Prophet Shultis predicted another "open" winter with a dearth of snow. But something has happened to upset Tom's prophecy.

Snow has been plentiful and the first time in several years the Klasmen had fun in January. Quickly changing weather charts seriously threaten perfect conditions for this weekend, but on the whole 1954 has been a welcome relief from its predecessors.

But Shultis warns the cognoscenti that the long range weather pattern will justify his predictions. He figures there will be little, if any, unusual cold weather after January.

Marianne Davis, our society ed., forwards this interesting ten-minute summary of the county scene amid last weekend's rash of chills:

"The well-dressed skier in addition to his regular ski-gear, wore forehead-chin covering wool helmets to protect himself against the Arctic blasts against the mountain. Many of the Snobirds didn't seem to realize their faces were many shades of red-to-white with frostbite but kept riding the tow. . . . Belleaire Lodge was jammed as a subway rush hour—couldn't get near the counter. Upstairs kept warning skiers to get inside, get something to eat, warm up. Consequent jam-up in the refreshment house.

"High time new lodge is finished to accommodate mobs. . . . Traffic handled very well in the parking lot, but bridge approach is too narrow, especially with snow on one side of the bridge not cleared away. . . . International note. . . . French speaking Lake Placid Club group warming up over coffee in Pine Hill restaurant. Pine Hill and Phoenixia crowded with cars and people. Want to return on a warmer day. (Ed. Note: Not a word about Harry Kaprellian freezing in his new red vest!)

● JANUARY THAW:

Speaking of January thaws, there is one in the Belknap Center getting improved treatment in the metropolitan press which has leaned heavily toward New Hampshire and Vermont in other years. Bear Mountain Park is another doubleheader ski jump, tonight under the lights and Sunday afternoon. Merrill "Mezz" Barber heads the Class A card. The annual battle between the New York and New Jersey Ski Councils takes place at Belleaire today. Club members make up the teams of 25 men and 10 girls. This competition is practically at the fabled stage now, Jersey, called Banana Belt skiers by NYSC, won in an upset two years ago but lost last season. WOR has nightly ski reports on radio at 11:15. Metropolitan ski writers remind readers that when Belleaire is crowded there's a High-mountain just around the corner. It's a tops, rope-tow area and plenty interesting, even for experts. Doris Parslow reports that the Simpson Memorial slope at Phoenixia was "just nicely filled" last weekend.

SCHUSS NOTES: Hardest-hit ski area this winter has been the famous Franconia in New Hampshire. The state spent $250,000 there in improvements but seasonal business is off 90 percent against 1953 due to poor snow depths. Under recommendation by the American Council of Medical Research, the American Red Cross has announced a change in the previously approved first aid treatment for frostbite. A new supplement to the current first aid textbook outlines a method of immediate submersion of frost-bitten limbs in warm water. The Poughkeepsie High overcame a 39-30 deficit at the half to whip Newburgh Academy, 72-63, last night on the NFA boards.

Now Kingston High is sure what team it has to beat for the DUSO championship.

The loss virtually eliminated the Goldbacks who have dropped two in a row—to Kingston and the Blues. And it makes the DUSO race pretty much a showdown between KHS and PHS.

A third period collapse when they scored only four points cooked the Newburgh goose.

Mickey Burkowski, NFA's All-DUSO center, led both teams with 28 points, but Harold Kaplan, a while against Kingston Tuesday, quickly picked up three fouls and was almost helpless. He scored only 3 points. Jeff Conine, a new starter, rimmed 15 for the Masters.

Monty Stickles, Blue center, hooped 22 points and Gary Mendez had 20. Don Dahowski got 15.

In the DUSO contests, Middle-town won over Port Jervis 61-41 as Bill Williams hit 20 points. Ellenville scored a surprise 43-41 squeaker over Fallsburg for its first win of the campaign. Monticello had to battle overtime periods to whip neighboring Liberty High, 48-46.

Yogi Gets $5,000 Hike in Salary

New York, Jan. 23 (AP)—Having bagged Yogi Berra, their leading slugger, the New York Yankees today sought to bring some of their other stars into the fold for 1954.

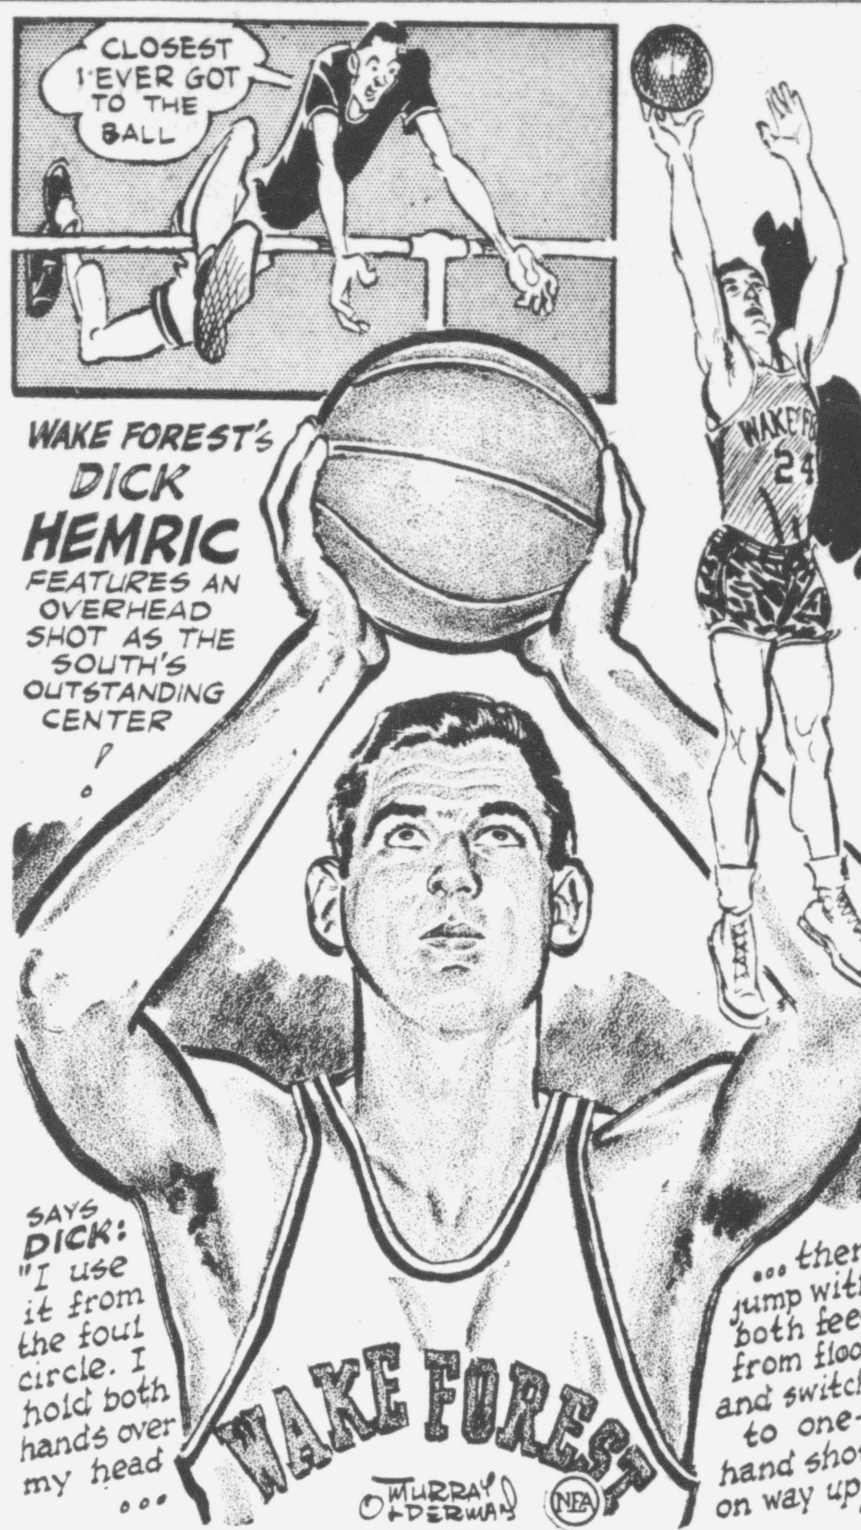

Berra, who batted .296 and clubbed 27 home runs last year, came to terms yesterday after a brief conference with assistant general manager Roy Hamey. The hard-hitting center reportedly will receive $42,000—a $5,000 boost—for trying to help the Bombers to their sixth straight world championship.

Now Hamey and general manager George Weiss are expected to try their collective talents in attempts to sign Mickey Mantle, Gil McDougald and Whitey Ford. All three have expressed dissatisfaction with the contracts they've been offered.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, the Yankees' World Series opponents two years running, signed Joe Black, their great relief pitcher of 1952. Much to Black's relief he will receive the same salary—around $12,000—as he did last season.

former accepted procedure called for initial application of cool water with a gradual increase in temperature over a prolonged period. The ARC now advocates the first bathing of the afflicted limb specifically be done with lukewarm water. It has been discovered that such treatment provides for better recovery than can be obtained by the more gradual heat application practiced before.

Caroline Draper of Belleaire is one of 13 persons taking school course for junior girls which ends at Franconia, N. H. Sunday. The U. S. Eastern Amateur Ski Association selected the 13 girls on the basis of racing ability shown in their local regions. They range from 14 to 17 years of age. The training program was used as a guide to the USEASA in selecting girls for competition in the National Junior championships at Reno, Nevada, in March. Paul Valar, former Swiss Olympic skier and his wife, Paula, coached the girls in special slalom and racing technique. Miss Draper thus becomes a valuable addition to the popular Belleaire staff of Arthur G. Draper and Dot Hoyt.

Hemric, Who Outplays Them All, Rates As Best College Center in the Nation

BY JIMMY BRESLIN
(NEA Sports Staff)

Murray Gresson and Bones McKinney, who coach Wake Forest, were swapping "basketball lies" with a small group sitting with them.

"Do you have any stories," Gresson was asked, "which show how much Dick Hemric means to your team?"

"Watch him play," he answered.

Hemric is a 20-year-old out of Jonesville, N. C. Once the game started at Madison Square Garden, you didn't have to search far for yarns about Hemric's work. The bulky 6-6, 220-pound pivot wobbled around a band ankle for less than half the game and then sat out the rest of it as underdog Seton Hall ran away with an 89-78 victory.

Ornithologist Tells County Hunters Most Type Hawks Are Protected

By RICHARD THIBAUT
(Freeman Correspondent)

Unknown to the vast majority of hunters, most types of hawks are protected in New York state, Dr. Heinz Meng, of New Paltz State Teachers College said Thursday at the Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club.

A noted ornithologist and instructor at the county college, Dr. Meng was guest speaker at the annual banquet of the Ulster County Federated Sportsmen's Clubs.

"Most hawks are protected in our state," Dr. Meng stated, "because of their value in controlling rodent populations." "Some hawks, however," he continued, "have been mistakenly shot by farmers who feared destruction of their chickens."

The speaker illustrated his talk with colored slides of hawks native to this area and one of the red-tailed hawk, the mouse-eating species.

Explains Habits
A fairly general characteristic of all hawks, he explained, is the ability to do their actual hunting while sitting on a dead limb. The hawks do not hunt while soaring in flight. Rabbits, he said, are only the occasional prey of the hawk.

Dr. Meng's pictures of various types of hawks revealed the characteristic colorings of the young and adult birds and noted that the male is usually somewhat smaller than the female. One of his shots showed a rare albino red-shouldered hawk which he kept alive in his collection at the college.

Dr. Meng reported that he had witnessed a spectacular migration of mouse-eating hawks at New Paltz the third week in September. He estimated there were about 400 birds in the group.

Other Types of Hawks
In the second group of birds described by Dr. Meng, were the goshawk, the Cooper hawk and the sharp-shinned hawk. The goshawk has short, round wings and is the bird trained for falconry. Having yellow eyes, the hawk has a longer tail than that in the first group. The Cooper hawk on the other hand, is a crow sized. In the entire second group the male builds the nest. The smallest of the three is the sharp-shinned hawk, and this cocky little bird is known to attack human beings or animals which approach the nest, by hitting them on the head.

Long, pointed wings, he said, distinguished the third group of hawks, and they are equipped with saw-toothed beaks. These birds kill with their beaks instead of their feet. These are the duck hawk, pigeon hawk and sparrow hawk. Sparrow hawks may be observed sitting on telephone wires, and they nest in flicker holes, and are characterized by large grey eyes.

The last group described contained the marsh hawk, recognized by a white patch at the base of the back and are more owl-like in their markings about the face than any of the others.

Shows Hawks in Flight

Dr. Meng also showed slides of hawks in flight, among them the Turkey vulture, which has a red turkey-like head and a wing-spread of six feet. This bird feeds on carrion.

Dr. Meng described the method and procedure of tagging hawks. He said that if he tagged three Cooper hawks, for instance, and set them free, he would report the numbers immediately to the Wildlife Institute in Washington. If a birdist in another locality found these hawks, he could immediately locate the part of the country from which they came by writing to the same source.

Dr. Meng went on to describe the various nests of the groups of hawks, the number of eggs characteristic to each group and how they fed their young. The Cooper hawk, he noted, takes 36 days to hatch its young, and unlike owls, they are born with their eyes open. The red-tail hawk has the habit of lining its nest with cedar bark, while the goshawk lines its nest with bark flakes.

"It is phenomenal," he asserted, "the number of mice that a pair of adult hawks can bring to the nests of their young." To understand the importance of keeping our hawks unmolested, he said that one mouse during the course of a year will have seven litters. If all of these mice also multiply, one pair of mice would be responsible for about a million mice a year, and the hawk plays a large role in keeping the rodents under control. Where each mouse might only eat two cents worth of grain a year, but this multiplied by a million becomes a large figure. Further

(By The Associated Press)

Wherever they play their National Basketball Association games, the Philadelphia Warriors just can't seem to beat the New York Knickerbockers.

Last night at New Haven, the Knicks edged the plucky Warriors 84-82 as Carl Braun sank a jump shot with one second left to play.

The victory was the Knickerbockers' 15th in 16 starts against Philadelphia. They've whipped them 5-1 this season and in all 10 meetings last year.

Braun's climactic score was his only field goal of the game. Harry Gallatin paced the winners with 16 points, but Neil Johnston, the league's leading scorer, took scoring honors with 32.

New York now leads the Eastern Division by three and a half games over second-place Syracuse.

Doyle's Wreckers Rout Woodstock Vs, 85-76

Jack Doyle's Wreckers, an all-star YMCA aggregation, demolished the Woodstock Varsity, 85-76, last night on the village school boards.

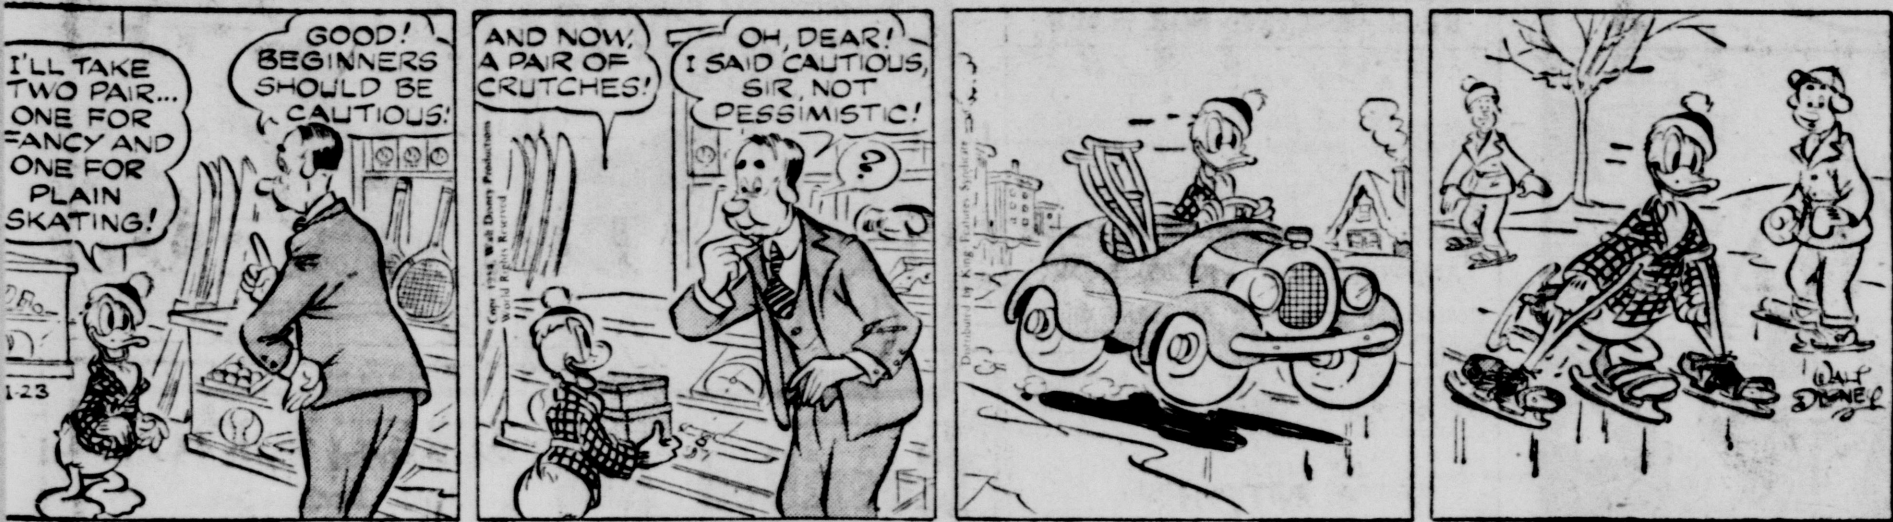

In handing Coach Walter Van Wagenen's cagers their third loss in 11 starts, the Wreckers overcame a 42-33 halftime deficit with a 52-point explosion in the second half.

Veteran Rod Sagendorf's terrific outside shooting was the principal factor in the Doyle victory. The former KHS great scored 16 of his 23 points in the second half, 12 in the final period.

Miami Lucky to Be Blacked Out From Third Bout Between Joey Maxim and Archie Moore

By HARRY GRAYSON
(NEA Sports Editor)

You wonder what the International Boxing Club is thinking about in sending Archie Moore against Joey Maxim for the third time, at the Miami Stadium, Jan. 27.

In two previous offenses—in St. Louis and Ogden, Utah—the light-heavyweight veterans were so dreadfully boring that the television audiences spent the greater part of the evening working cross-word puzzles.

Turnabout by Moore
For years, Johnston shouted that Moore was being denied a richly deserved crack at the crown. Now that the St. Louis Negro has it, Johnston, like so many other pilots, has put the title in cold storage. It has to be Maxim, it seems, or no one.

Meanwhile, the National boxing association is clamoring for more to once more tackle young Harold Johnson, the Philadelphia who won a decision from him. Either Moore or Maxim could get a pile of money boxing Harry Matthews in Seattle. But the IBC obviously doesn't want to give Herman Taylor, the Philadelphia promoter, who is the actual handler of Johnson, too much leeway. And Octopus, Inc., long since found out that Jack Hurley, who has Kid Matthews, is a rugged individualist.

Joe Maxim Archie Moore

Nardico-Case History
There was talk of Danny Nardico boxing Rocky Marciano in Miami in February. Nardico is a pleasing club fighter and a light-heavyweight, yet you never hear the Tampa's name mentioned in the same breath with that of Moore or Maxim.

Once Johnson and the venerable Jack Kearns, who guides Maxim, turned up as big wheels and palsy-walsy in the International Managers Guild, Moore and Maxim became a dancing team like Darvis and Julia and Marge and the Gower Champion. There was such little interest in four days before the fight the promoters had to put Rex Layne on the card to hype the sale. Even then the Ogden promoters, who worked with the One Big Unhappy Monopoly but were not in on the telecast swag, lost $20,000.

This trip, Moore and Maxim and the IBC are insured by a $40,000 TV and broadcasting fee. The production will be fortunate to do as much at the gate.

Miami Is Lucky
Greater Miami considers itself extremely lucky to be blacked out. The sale was so bad 19 days before the night of the savage battle that the IBC lined up Bobby Dykes, a Texas welter popular in the district, to bolster the attraction.

Moore and Maxim are now colliding in a fight being fought for no reason at all. Doc Kearns wasn't able to stir up anything more noteworthy than a luxury training camp on the Miami Beach Gold Coast. Johnston has kept extra quiet, lest someone ask him to give one good reason why the scrap is being held.

Moore keeps on fighting Maxim and Rocky Marciano winters at Grossinger, his favorite resort.

The manager's idea today seems to be to keep everybody completely unaware of the fact that he has a champion.

Chicago's Bill Lillard Leads All-Star Bowling Tournament

Chicago, Jan. 23 (AP)—Bill Lillard, a slender Texan who came to Chicago a few years ago to seek gold in the bowling fields, held the lead today at the half-way mark in match play in the National All-Star bowling tournament.

Ousted from the top spot by the 27-year-old sharp-shooting Lillard was Buzz Fazio, one of the five Detroit stars in the field of 16. Lillard had two imposing series in last night's sixth round. He cooled off a little against his next two opponents, defending champion Don Carter of Detroit and former champion Ned Day of West Allis, Wis.

But Lillard garnered enough points to post 153-10 for the lead with a record of 21 wins, 11 losses and a total of 6,710 pins.

In the Women's Division, Peggy Farley, 29-year-old southpaw of Westchester, Calif., kept her front-ranking position at the half-way mark, but several of the other 15 finalists were not far behind.

Lillard started his series yesterday with an 857-807 win over Joe Joseph of Lansing, Mich. He followed with an 884-730 win over Ben Rose of Philadelphia. Then he ran into trouble, losing to Day 752-788 while Carter posted an imposing 906, the tourney's high set, against Lillard's 808. Carter fired games of 255, 211, 228 and 212.

Bowling Roundup

Houska Rolls 506

Kay Houska led the New Palitz Nite Cap League with a 506 series on games of 166, 184 and 156. Runnerup Livia Tenedini posted 467, G. Hotaling 443, Nellie Alverston 441, Esther Ott 435, June Knott 428, L. Diaz 423 and June Knickerbocker 421.

Other top shooters were Lillian Mosttransky 418, Dot McCormick ditto, Marie Osterhout 412, Tess Badalamenti 411, Pat Millham 403, D. Stock 402, A. Alsdorf 402, D. Potts 401.

Team results:
New Palitz Savings 2, Pete's Meat Mkt. 1; Lorenzens 3, Amocettes 0; Mobil Flames 3, Cappola's Station 0; Venetians 2, Downtown Market 1.

Entry blanks for the fifth annual Dutchess Recreation 100 per cent team handicap bowling classic may be obtained at the Bowldrome and Central Recs.

The Queen City event will be held April 24-25 and May 1-2-8-9 at the Dutchess Recreation. First place pays $750 plus sponsor's trophy, with a prize of $250 for high net score.

The Detroit Tigers had the American League's poorest batting average for night games. The team batted only .236 under the lights.

In Pro Football 'War'

Commissioner Bert Bell, left, boss of the National Football League, and big Arnie Weinmeister, right, star league tackle, are principals in a promised war between the U. S. professional organization and its Canadian counterpart, the Canadian League. Bell said: "The war is on," after learning that the Canadian League had signed Weinmeister, of the New York Giants, for the 1954 season.

Gavilan Talk Stirs Olson

San Francisco, Jan. 23 (AP)—The former boxing champions who are predicting Carl (Bobo) Olson will lose his middleweight title to welter boss Kid Gavilan are doing beak bustin, Bobo a favor.

Olson squares off with Joe Rindone of Roxbury, Mass., in a non-title 10-round go here tonight. When Bobo heard that former champions Henry Armstrong and Sugar Ray Robinson had hopped on the Gavilan bandwagon earlier this week, his reaction was practically "so what?"

Actually, however it was as stimulating as one of the halftime pep talks the late Knute Rockne used to give his Notre Dame football players. Olson, in training for Rindone, appeared to dig into his chores with extra vigor. The 160-pound kingly is likely to remember the predictions by Armstrong and Robinson when he gets into the Chicago ring with the Cuban Kead, April 2, for his first defense of the crown.

Olson hasn't said so publicly but he has confided to friends he thinks he can whip Gavilan any time they meet.

Olson is a lopsided favorite to win over Rindone tonight. The fight at Winterland Arena, will be nationally televised (ABC, 6 p. m. PST, 9 p. m. EST), except for a blackout of the local area.

S. Woyden Slams 607

Steve Woyden and Norm Niles shared scoring honors in the Everybody's League last night with 607 and 207 respectively.

Woyden strung together a hat trick series of 205-200-202-607. Other high shooters were John Sweeney 212-554, D. Pitchard 201-576, Fred Schryver 200-558 and Rudi Hohenberger 571.

The results:
Gene's Bar & Grill (1)—852-893-794-2539.

Amell's (2)—Art Parks 519, Steve Woyden 607, Ken Newell 202-512, Jack Hartman 487, Norm Niles 207-533, 857-875-2688.

Slaughter Declines Political Candidacy

Bellefonte, Ill., Jan. 23 (AP)—The political career of Enos Slaughter, veteran St. Louis Cardinal outfielder, has ended before it started.

The chairman of the St. Clair County Democratic Committee said earlier this week that Slaughter would be included on a ticket for the April 13 primary election for nomination to the office of county clerk.

But Slaughter's partner in a jewelry store here said yesterday the 37-year-old outfielder won't accept the candidacy.

John Straub said he received a letter from Slaughter in St. Augustine, Fla., where Slaughter is instructing at a baseball school.

Skiing Trails Reported 'Fair'

Skiing conditions throughout the state are generally poor to fair for the weekend, the State Commerce Department reported today.

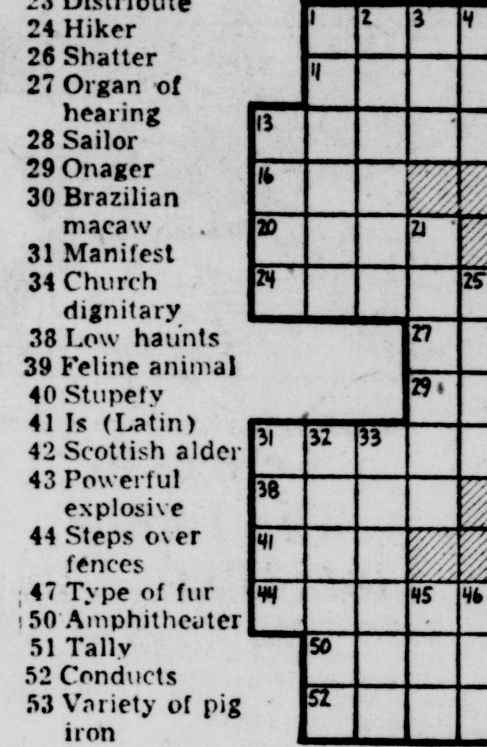

The report for Belleayre Center was none to 12 inches of frozen granular, with skiing "poor." At Highmount it was 0-10, poor to fair. "No skiing" is the report for Bear Mountain which was scheduled to have two days of jumping events.

One Feared Dead

Naples, Italy, Jan. 23 (AP)—Two men were rescued but a third was feared dead in the crash of a U. S. Navy divebomber into the dark seas off Salerno last night.

Lt. John Ricci, 26, the pilot (home address unknown), and Cmdr. David Norton, area petroleum officer at the U. S. Navy station in London, got out of the Avenger bomber by parachute before it crashed. The plane was on a routine flight from Catania to Naples carrying mail. The name of the third man was withheld by U. S. authorities.

Lillard started his series yesterday with an 857-807 win over Joe Joseph of Lansing, Mich. He followed with an 884-730 win over Ben Rose of Philadelphia. Then he ran into trouble, losing to Day 752-788 while Carter posted an imposing 906, the tourney's highest, against Lillard's 808. Carter fired games of 255, 211, 228 and 212.

In Pro Football 'War'

Commissioner Bert Bell, left, boss of the National Football League, and big Arnie Weinmeister, right, star league tackle, are principals in a promised war between the U. S. professional organization and its Canadian counterpart, the Canadian League. Bell said: "The war is on," after learning that the Canadian League had signed Weinmeister, of the New York Giants, for the 1954 season.

Cavilan Talk Stirrs Olson

San Francisco, Jan. 23 (AP)—The former boxing champions who are predicting Carl (Bobo) Olson will lose his middleweight title to welter boss Kid Gavilan are doing back bustin, Bobo a favor.

Olson squares off with Joe Rindone of Roxbury, Mass., in a non-title 10-round go here tonight. When Bobo heard that former champion Henry Armstrong and Sugar Ray Robinson had hoped on the Gavilan handwagon earlier this week, his reaction was practically "so what?"

Actually, however it was as stimulating as one of the half-time pep talks the late Knute Rockne used to give his Notre Dame football players. Olson, in training for Rindone, appeared to dig into his chores with extra vigor. The 160-pound kingpin is likely to remember the predictions by Armstrong and Robinson when he gets into the Chicago ring with the Cuban Kead, April 2, for his first defense of the crown.

Olson hasn't said so publicly but he has confided to friends he thinks he can whip Gavilan any time they meet.

Olson is a lopsided favorite to win over Rindone tonight. The fight at Windsorland Arena, will be nationally televised (ABC, 6 p. m. PST, 9 p. m. EST), except for a blackout of the local area.

Slaughter Declines Political Candidacy

Bellefonte, Ill., Jan. 23 (AP)—The political career of Enos Slaughter, veteran St. Louis Cardinal outfielder, has ended before it started.

The chairman of the St. Clair County Democratic Committee said earlier this week that Slaughter would be included on a ticket for the April 13 primary election for nomination to the office of county clerk.

But Slaughter's partner in a jewelry store here said yesterday the 37-year-old outfielder won't accept the candidacy.

John Straub said he received a letter from Slaughter in St. Augustine, Fla., where Slaughter is instructing at a baseball school.

Skiing Trails Reported "Fair"

Skiing conditions throughout the state are generally poor to fair for the weekend, the State Commerce Department reported today.

The report for Bellefonte Center was none to 12 inches of frozen granular, with skiing "poor." At Highmount it was 0-10, poor to fair. "No skiing" is the report for Bear Mountain which was scheduled to have two days of jumping events.

One Feared Dead

Naples, Italy, Jan. 23 (AP)—Two men were rescued but a third was feared dead in the crash of a U. S. Navy divebomber into the dark seas off Salerno last night. Lt. John Ricci, 26, the pilot (home address unknown), and Cmdr. David Norton, area petroleum officer at the U. S. Navy station in London, got out of the Avenger if bomber by parachute before it crashed. The plane was on a routine flight from Catania to Naples carrying mail. The name of the third man was withheld by U. S. authorities.

Wants New Way To Handle Truants

Albany, Jan. 23 (P)—Sen. Thomas C. Desmond wants psychologists rather than truant officers to handle school children who play hooky.

The Newburgh Republican announced today he would introduce a bill in the Legislature Monday providing that absent pupils be dealt with by attendance teachers trained in psychology and associated fields.

"My bill," Desmond said, "aims to replace the old-fashioned truant officer with a modern psychological approach which recognizes that the persistent hooky-player may be the product of warped emotions."

He said that today "one out of six truant officers in the state has not more than elementary school education. How can we expect such untrained officials to deal with the complex emotional and family troubles of our children?"

Desmond's bill would require attendance teachers to have a license to teach in the state and meet other qualifications established by the education department.

He said that any school board that did not employ an attendance officer trained in psychology would be "unfair to both children and parents."

New studies indicate that 95 per cent of the toughest juvenile delinquents were truants and that 60 per cent of "run-of-the-mill" delinquents were "persistent" truants, Desmond said.

He said that on an average day about 150,000 children were absent from public schools in the state and that from 40,000 to 50,000 of these have problems based on emotional or physical disturbances.

Methodists Appropriate

Buck Hill Falls, Pa., Jan. 23 (P)—The Board of Missions of the Methodist Church has appropriated the largest annual sum for mission work in the church's history. Appropriated yesterday for mission work in 40 countries total $16,178,576—$6,507,794 for foreign missions, $2,514,355 for national missions and $7,156,447 for the women's division of Christian service. The appropriations are for the year beginning June 1. Under church law, the board cannot appropriate more money than collected during the previous fiscal year.

Raid Alert Sounded

Seoul, Jan. 23 (P)—A flight of unidentified planes from Communist North Korea flew as far south as Seoul today and touched off a half hour air raid alert. American Sabre jets "scrambled" into the air but failed to make contact with the unidentified aircraft which turned and flew back into North Korea. The 5th Air Force said the alert was sounded at 5:08 p. m. and lasted until 5:35 p. m. (3:35 a. m. EST).

Skating Rink Opened

The Kingston Recreation Department-sponsored ice skating rink adjacent to the Myron J. Michael School will be open to the public until 4 p. m. today and again tonight from 6 until 10 o'clock, it has been announced. The rink will be closed between the hours of 4 to 6 o'clock to allow for the resurfacing of the ice.

Asked Delayed Action On Milk Suggestions

Albany, Jan. 23 (P)—The Dairy-men's League Cooperative Association wants state and federal officials to go slowly in considering recommendations of a committee that studied pricing and handling of milk in the New York marketing area.

The New York Milkshed Committee, headed by Dr. Everett Case, president of Colgate University, reported to state and federal agriculture departments last Tuesday on an eight-month study of milk problems in the New York metropolitan and northern New Jersey marketing areas.

The association board of directors yesterday adopted unanimously a resolution stating that the committee's recommendations were "of extreme importance to every dairyman and dairy organization in the New York milkshed."

The resolution asked that state and federal officials refrain from "precipitous action" until individuals and organizations most directly affected had time to study the committee's proposals.

Ask Court to Return Revoked Race Licenses

New York, Jan. 23 (P)—The wife and son of Abraham (Abe) Chait, ex-convict, moved in Supreme Court yesterday to set aside the action of the State Racing Commission revoking their racing licenses.

The commission took away the licenses of Burton D. Chait and Sara Chait on the ground they were "fronting" for Abraham Chait, whom the commission described as a "racketeer and gangster."

Terminating this action "arbitrary and capricious," the Chait's said the ruling declaring them ineligible to race horses on the state tracks was based primarily on testimony taken before the State Crime Commission, which they did not have the opportunity to refute.

Chart Is Introduced

Included in this chart, the couple said, were lines purportedly showing the phone calls between Strollo and Bender.

Conditioned Good

Millard P. Harris, 49, operator of a car owned by L. W. Harris Sons, Inc., of 268 Main street, Poughkeepsie, was taken to Vassar Brothers Hospital, Poughkeepsie, Friday suffering from possible internal injuries following a two-car accident on the Chapel Hill road a mile and a half south of the Highland circle. His condition was reported good today by state police who investigated the accident. The second car involved was owned and driven by Charles R. Cyphers of Basket street, Highland. Both cars were badly damaged. The accident happened shortly before noon.

Committed to Jail

Ernest R. Markle, 58, Accord, was arrested by Ellenville state police early today on a disorderly conduct charge. Taken before Justice Percy Gazley, he was committed to jail for a hearing later.

Martin Says, "Take It Easy"
January 22, 1954.
Editor, The Freeman:

I am greatly concerned at the evidence of loose thinking in town in connection with the State plan for a system of arterial highways in Kingston.

I believe we are all convinced that not initial plan for a project of this magnitude is ever perfect. The State plan, based on projections which are not provable but seem logical, has many inherent advantages and disadvantages. Therefore, let us all study the plan, and make unhurried calculations as to the benefits to be derived balanced against the increased tax load and other disadvantages.

There is no time limitation as to when this plan can be embraced. The State does not say we must approve it by February, by the end of 1954, or at any other set deadline. It is submitted for our approval or disapproval at any time the city sees fit. Consequently, it seems ridiculous to jam the thing through without thinking it through. Let us, rather, be able to say that we have reached a decision after thorough and sober consideration and not in an atmosphere of hysteria and high pressure. Several organizations have passed resolutions of approval without background knowledge and at meetings where only a very small number of the total membership were present.

Take it easy, Kingstonians, and be safe rather than sorry—regardless of your final decision on the arterial highways!

Yours,
JAMES E. MARTIN,
Supervisor, 12th Ward
City of Kingston.

Asked to Check Coffee

Washington, Jan. 23 (P)—Congress has been asked to look into the soaring price of coffee and the ambassador of coffee-producing Colombia says it is a "normal story of supply and demand." Sen. R-Md., yesterday introduced a resolution calling for an investigation by the Senate Banking Committee. In a public statement not connected with Beall's move, Ambassador Eduardo Zuleta-Angel said consumption had been going up and frost hit the Brazilian coffee crop hard. He said he could find no evidence that market manipulation is behind the rise and that his country is doing all it can to maintain a stable price.

Favor Probe Fund

Washington, Jan. 23 (P)—The Senate Rules Committee has approved use of about a million dollars for investigations by Senate committees during the coming year. The funds were approved yesterday for investigations of communism, juvenile delinquency, communications, transportation and wildlife conservation problems, defense, revision of the United Nations charter and other governmental and international functions. A formal request for $200,000 for Sen. McCarthy's (R-Wis.) investigations subcommittee did not reach the rules committee in time for action with the others.

Units Identified

Seoul, Jan. 23 (P)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, U. S. 8th Army commander, today identified the two American divisions to be withdrawn from Korea as the 40th and 45th Divisions, the former Oklahoma National Guard, will remain in the United States between Feb. 15 and March 15, and the 40th, former California National Guard, considerably later. Withdrawals were announced recently by President Eisenhower, entitled to rotation home on points. Men not yet eligible will be transferred to other divisions.

Smith, a victim of amnesia, was reunited with his mother and a sister through efforts of the Chicago Daily News and Albert H. Gargione, 28, of Chicago, a former driver-partner.

Blames Hostility For Sale of Home

New York, Jan. 23 (P)—A Negro manufacturer has sold the home he built in Copiague on Long Island because of the "hostility of the white people there" and receipt of more than a dozen threatening letters, several signed "Ku Klux Klan."

Clarence S. Wilson, 43, president of a Brooklyn Beauty and Barber Shop Supply Company, decided to build a house because his present four-room apartment is too small for his family, including three small sons.

A white business associate sold him a plot in Deauville Gardens, Copiague, in Suffolk county, and he began construction of a $16,000 six-room ranch type home.

Suspicious Fires

Last November two fires caused a total of $1,500 damage to the house. Police listed the blazes as suspicious.

Wilson said he began receiving threatening letters and turned the first of them over to the FBI. Three of the letters, he said, were signed "Ku Klux Klan."

He said yesterday he hired a white detective who reported some residents of the Deauville Gardens area told him the Wilson family would move into their home only "over their dead bodies."

Copiague is an unincorporated village without municipal services. Babylon Police Chief P. K. Hempstead reportedly has been looking in the Wilson case for several months.

Air Base Contracts

New York, Jan. 23 (P)—Contracts have been awarded for construction of a new air force base at Plattsburg, scheduled for completion late in 1955. The Army Corps of Engineers yesterday announced the contract awards, after agreement had been reached between the air force and state officials on closing of a section of state Route 22 to permit construction of the base. Col. Alfred H. Davidson, Jr., army district engineer chief, said work begin on the base within a month.

Must Delay Settlement

London, Jan. 22 (P)—Pravda said today handing over of 22,000 prisoners to the United Nations Command in Korea "must delay a final peaceful settlement in Korea and must lead to a worsening of the international situation."

The Pravda article, as broadcast by Moscow radio, said the action of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission in transferring anti-Communist North Korean and Chinese was a "crude violation of the international agreement."

Can Begin Bases

Washington, Jan. 23 (P)—U. S. Army Engineers can begin construction now of four air bases in Spain. The House Armed Services Committee unanimously okayed a go-ahead on the 200 million dollar project yesterday. The Senate Armed Services Committee had already approved.

Film Bill Considered

New York, Jan. 22 (P)—A group of state motion picture censors is considering legislation that would let various states ban public exhibition of obscene and immoral films in the light of U. S. Supreme Court rulings. The censors, who meet again today in the windup of a two-day closed conference here, are from New York state, Kansas, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Virginia. The proposal for the legislation was announced in a statement issued at the end of yesterday's session of the 15 representatives of state boards of censors.

Methodists Appropriate
Buck Hill Falls, Pa., Jan. 23 (P)—The Board of Missions of the Methodist Church has appropriated the largest annual sum for mission work in the church's history. Appropriations approved yesterday for mission work in 40 countries, total $16,178,576—$6,507,794 for foreign missions, $2,514,335 for national missions and $7,156,447 for the women's division of Christian service. The appropriations are for the year beginning June 1. Under church law, the board cannot appropriate more money than collected during the previous fiscal year.

Raid Alert Sounded
Seoul, Jan. 23 (P)—A flight of unidentified planes from Communist North Korea flew far south as Seoul today and touched off a half hour air raid alert. American Sabre jets "scrambled" into the air but failed to make contact with the unidentified aircraft which turned and flew back into North Korea. The 5th Air Force said the alert was sounded at 5:08 p. m. and lasted until 5:35 p. m. (3:35 a. m. EST).

Skating Rink Opened
The Kingston Recreation Department-sponsored ice skating rink adjacent to the Myron J. Michael School will be open to the public until 4 p. m. today and again tonight from 6 until 10 o'clock, it has been announced. The rink will be closed between the hours of 4 to 6 o'clock to allow for the resurfacing of the ice.

Asked Delayed Action On Milk Suggestions

Albany, Jan. 23 (P)—The Dairy-men's League Cooperative Association wants state and federal officials to go slowly in considering recommendations of a committee that studied pricing and handling of milk in the New York marketing area.

The New York Milkshed Committee, headed by Dr. Everett Case, president of Colgate University, reported to state and federal agriculture departments last Tuesday on an eight-month study of milk problems in the New York metropolitan and northern New Jersey marketing areas.

The association board of directors yesterday adopted unanimously a resolution stating that the committee's recommendations were of "extreme importance to every dairyman and dairy organization in the New York milkshed." The resolution asked that state and federal officials refrain from "precipitous action" until individuals and organizations most directly affected had time to study the committee's proposals.

Ask Court to Return Revoked Race Licenses

New York, Jan. 23 (P)—The wife and son of Abraham (Abe) Chait, ex-convict, moved in Supreme Court yesterday to set aside the action of the State Racing Commission revoking their racing licenses.

The commission took away the licenses of Burton D. Chait and Sara Chait on the ground they were "fronting" for Abraham Chait, whom the commission described as a "racketeer and gangster."

Terming this action "arbitrary and capricious," the Chait's said the ruling declaring them ineligible to race horses on the state tracks was based primarily on testimony taken before the State Racing Commission, which they do not have the opportunity to refute.

Chart Is Introduced

Condition Good
• Millard P. Harris, 49, operator of a car owned by L. W. Harris Sons, Inc., of 268 Main street, Poughkeepsie, was taken to Vassar Brothers Hospital, Poughkeepsie, Friday suffering from possible internal injuries following a two-car accident on the Chapel Hill road a mile and a half south of the Highland circle. His condition was reported good today by state police who investigated the accident. The second car involved was owned and driven by Charles R. Cyphers of Basket street, Highland. Both cars were badly damaged. The accident happened shortly before noon.

Committed to Jail
Ernest R. Markle, 58, Accord, was arrested by Ellenville state police early today on a disorderly conduct charge. Taken before Justice Percy Gazley, he was committed to jail for a hearing later.

Martin Says, "Take It Easy"
January 22, 1954.
Editor, The Freeman:

I am greatly concerned at the evidence of loose thinking in town in connection with the State plan for a system of arterial highways in Kingston.

I believe we are all convinced that not initial plan for a project of this magnitude is ever perfect. The State plan, based on projections which are not provable but seem logical, has many inherent advantages and disadvantages. Therefore, let us all study the plan, and make unbiassed calculations as to the benefits to be derived balanced against the increased tax load and other disadvantages.

There is no time limitation as to when this plan can be embraced. The State does not say we must approve it by February, by the end of 1954, or at any other set deadline. It is submitted for our approval or disapproval at any time the city sees fit. Consequently, it seems ridiculous to jam the thing through without thinking it through. Let us, rather, be able to say that we have reached a decision after thorough and sober consideration and not in an atmosphere of hysteria and high pressure. Several organizations have passed resolutions of approval without background knowledge and at meetings where only a very small number of the total membership were present.

Take it easy, Kingstonians, and be safe rather than sorry—regardless of your final decision on the arterial highway!

Yours very truly,
Supervisor, 12th Ward
City of Kingston.

Asked to Check Coffee

Washington, Jan. 23 (P)—Congress has been asked to look into the soaring price of coffee, and the ambassador of coffee-producing Colombia says it is a "normal story of supply and demand." Sen. Beall (R-Md.) yesterday introduced a resolution calling for an investigation by the Senate Banking Committee. In a public statement, Beall said that Eduardo Zuelta-Angel, said consumption had been going up and frost hit the Brazilian coffee crop hard. He said he could find no evidence that market manipulation is behind the rise and that his country is doing all it can to maintain a stable price.

Favor Probe Fund

Washington, Jan. 23 (P)—The Senate Rules Committee has approved use of about a million dollars for investigations by Senate committees during the coming year. The funds were approved yesterday for investigations of communism, juvenile delinquency, communications, transportation and wildlife conservation problems, defense, revision of the United Nations charter and other governmental and international functions. A formal request for $200,000 for Sen. McCarthy's (R-Wis.) investigations subcommittee, did not reach the rules committee in time for action with the others.

Units Identified

Seoul, Jan. 23 (P)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, U. S. 8th Army commander, today identified the two American divisions to be withdrawn from Korea as the 40th and 45th Division, the former Oklahoma National Guard, will return to the United States between Feb. 15 and March 15, and the 40th, former California National Guard, considerably later. Withdrawals were announced recently by President Eisenhower, entitled to rotation home on points. Men not yet eligible will be transferred to other divisions.

Smith, a victim of amnesia, was reunited with his mother and a sister through efforts of the Chicago Daily News and Albert H. Gargione, 28, of Chicago, a former driver-partner.

A Pleasing Sign

Ballard Kelly, owner of an Indianapolis, Ind., cafe, paints a sign on his window advertising coffee at a cent a cup. A customer, R. D. Edwards, smiles his delight at seeing such a bargain. Kelly is fighting a price war with a drug store, much to the pleasure of Indianapolis coffee drinkers. (NEA Telephoto).

Blames Hostility For Sale of Home

New York, Jan. 23 (P)—A Negro manufacturer has sold the home he built in Copiague on Long Island because of the "hostility of the white people there" and receipt of more than a dozen threatening letters, several signed "Ku Klux Klan."

Clarence S. Wilson, 43, president of a Brooklyn Beauty and Barber Shop Supply Company, decided to build a house because his present four-room apartment is too small for his family, including three small sons.

A white business associate sold him a plot in Deauville Gardens, Copiague, in Suffolk county, and he began construction of a $16,000 six-room ranch type home.

Suspicious Fires
Last November two fires caused a total of $1,500 damage to the house. Police listed the blazes as suspicious.

Wilson said he began receiving threatening letters and turned the

Must Delay Settlement

London, Jan. 22 (P)—Pravda said today handing over of 22,000 prisoners to the United Nations Command in Korea "must delay a final peaceful settlement in Korea and must lead to a worsening of the international situation."

Can Begin Bases

Washington, Jan. 23 (P)—U. S. Army Engineers can begin construction now of four air bases in Spain. The House Armed Services Committee unanimously okayed a go-ahead on the 200 million dollar project yesterday. The Senate Armed Services Committee had already approved.

Film Bill Considered

New York, Jan. 22 (P)—A group of state motion picture censors is considering legislation that would let various states ban public exhibition of obscene and immoral films in the light of U. S. Supreme Court rulings. The censors, who meet again today in the windup of a two-day closed conference here, are from New York state, Kansas, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Virginia. The proposal for the legislation was announced in a statement issued at the end of yesterday's session of the 15 representatives of state boards of censors.
